His nerves shattered and almost hysterical in tears, Adolph Hotelling, 47, of Owosso, Mich., church elder and slayer of 5-year-old Dorothy Schneider, of Mt. Morris, was on his way to Marquette state prison today. A heavy guard accompanied him to prevent possible attempts at lynching or self-destruction. Hotelling, himself the father of five children, admitted slaying and mutilation of the Schneider girl and attacks upon two other small girls, children of neighbors.

Heflin Slapped by Democrats in Vote

Robinson Upheld

By MAURITZ HALLGREN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Senate Democrats today took a slap at Senator Tom Heflin (Dem.) of Alabama whose philippics against the Catholic Church have threatened to disturb party harmony and furnish fuel for a renewal of the Democrats' 1924 religious fight.

This was done when a Democratic conference gave a vote of confidence to Senator Robinson of Arkansas, floor leader, and voted approval of Robinson's work on the Senate Committee investigating the Mex-

TORNADO KILLS 1; MANY HURT

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 19—(AP.)—One man was dead, numerous persons injured and buildings blown down in a tornado that swept Southern Ohio today. First reports indicated the storm extended from Washington Courthouse, near the center of the state, down into the Blue Grass district of Kentucky.

A. R. Kruger, Dayton traveling man, was killed instantly when the coping of a building was blown down on his car at Washington Courthouse.

Heaviest damage was indicated at Cumminsville and East Hamilton, suburbs of Cincinnati, and at Hamilton, O.

Communication lines were down and definite information was lacking. Early estimates places damage at more than $100,000.

So far hospitals reported that 10 persons were being treated for injuries, none serious.

Two school children were reported injured at East Hamilton when the storm hit a school building.

Heaviest damage appeared to have been done in Cincinnati's northern suburbs, where houses and barns were unroofed, garages blown over and telephone and telegraph poles and trees leveled. A blinding rainstorm accompanied the high wind. The rain was so heavy that for a time automobiles were at a standstill.

The storm apparently jumped from here toward Louisville, where several persons were reported to have been injured and buildings damaged.

In Cincinnati several buildings were wrecked, but no one was reported injured. At East Hamilton the Van Buren Public School was damaged, but so far as is known no school children were hurt.

LOUISVILLE HIT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 19.—(INS.)—A terrific windstorm of cyclonic violence tore through parts of Louisville today.

The storm was heaviest in the south end.

Property damage was estimated at several hundred thousand dollars.

It has not been determined whether there has been any loss of life.

Scores of homes in the suburbs were reported blown down. Factories were said to be damaged. Numerous fires followed the cyclonic wind. Hospitals reported a small number of injured.

The Oil Battle
21 American Nations
2 Great Bear Fighters
Wise Amarillo, Tex.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

(Copyright, 1928.)

NEWTON, Kas., Jan. 19. A HEAVYWEIGHT battle for the world's oil championship is on between Standard Oil of New York and the Shell Oil Company, largely owned by the British government. Shell had been buying oil from Russia, selling it at a profit in India, and other convenient markets. Britain threw out Russia's representatives, cut off commercial relations, and British oil companies stopped buying Russia's oil. That was round one.

INTELLIGENT Standard Oil of New York said, quoting a well known play, "if you don't want her, I want her." Standard buys Russia's oil, sells it in India and elsewhere, saving a haul of 5,000 miles from our home wells. That is round two.

THE Shell Company, and Great Britian rage. The British oil fog having cut off its tail, requests New York's Standard Oil to be "decent enough" to do the same. The Standard Oil of New York, like the long tailed foxes in the fable, can't quite see the point and continues buying and selling Russian oil.

That our British brothers call "Yankee treachery." End of round three.

THE British Shell Company starts round four with a price cutting war, in the Indian oil market, causing Standard a loss of $4,600,000 annually, according to Standard's own statements. But Shell oil will have to do better than that, to annoy Standard Oil seriously.

A loss of four or forty million dollars is catalogued by Standard Oil as "petty cash", and later, in other parts of the world, Standard may show the British gentlemen what a real price war means.

EL IMPARTIAL and other newspapers in Spain are displeased with President Coolidge's warm reception in Cuba, natural because this country took Cuba from Spain and gave the beautiful island to the Cuban people. El Imparitial says this country has reserved rights in Cuba. It has reserved only one—the right "to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence." We not only made Cuba independent, but guarantee that she shall remain so.

ONE hundred and four delegates representing 21 nations of North and South America including the United States, are gathered in a great conference hall in Havana. Those 21 nations are the greatest power for peace in the world, also the greatest power for war, they stick together.

CANADA, without relinquishment of loyalty to the British empire, would be a leader in that conference. Canada's interests are in these American continents, their independence and their future.

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Another attempt of Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and Lieut. George R. Pond to establish a new world record for endurance flight failed today when their plane the Spirit of California was forced to descend at 10:15 a. m.

Exhaustion of the gasoline supply forced the fliers down after having been in the air for 50 hours and 6 minutes.

The fliers fell one hour and five minutes short of equaling the American endurance record and approximately three hours and 18 minutes short of setting a new world record.

The two men suffered severely from the cold, but gamely held on until the last drop of gasoline was exhausted.

GUN-TOTING PARSON GUILTY

The Rev. W. D. Eddings, gun-toting pastor of the Macedonia Negro Baptist Church of Duquesne, was found guilty of pointing firearms and carrying concealed weapons by a jury in Criminal Court today. He asked for a new trial.

It seems, according to witnesses, the Rev. Eddings carried his revolver into the pulpit a recent Sunday evening, and when the services became irregular "fanned" the large audience with the potent weapon.

The plaintiffs were Jess Bennett and Joe Johnson, Negroes. Johnson told the court there had been some trouble with the Rev. Eddings over a woman parishioner and that the pastor, as a result, had tried to read Johnson, who is a deacon, out of his job.

Deacon Johnson said he got up in church while the Rev. Eddings was reading his ouster and tried to say a few words.

"He told me," said Deacon Johnson, "to sit down. And I sat down."

Deacon Johnson described the gun-waving activities vividly. When the Rev. Eddings flourished his revolver over the heads of the worshipers, there was a hurried rush for doors and windows. The deacon said he found a window and landed on good terms with the outside earth. But when he looked up, he saw the Rev. Eddings pointing that same old revolver from the window.

"Reverend Eddings," the deacon said, "you sure are preaching strong tonight."

PLEDGE EARLY STRIKE QUIZ

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS,
Sun-Telegraph Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19.—As the first step in the demand for an investigation of conditions in the coal fields of Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio, Senator James E. Watson of Indiana, chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, today assured representatives of the United Mine Workers of America that he would appoint a sub-committee of his body to consider the Johnson resolution.

Chairman Watson informed Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal, that a sub-committee of three, consisting of two Republicans and one Democrat, would be named shortly to report on the feasibility of ordering a full inquiry.

Appointment of the sub-committees, according to Mr. Searles, would probably mean that charges of the miners will be gone into earlier than if the full committee considered the resolution first, since some sort of hearings would be necessary on the charges filed.

Searles said today that the United Mine Workers were prepared to substantiate every charge made in the lengthy brief laid before the Senate committee this week.

"We are not divulging the source of our information at this time," he said, "but when called upon to do so by the committee we shall be able to produce evidence of the most conclusive sort to prove our charge that railroads and various banking interests are engaged in a conspiracy to make conditions worse in the bituminous fields.

"Later," he added, "if the committee fails to order the inquiry, we will make the evidence public anyway."

It was revealed that officials of the mine workers' union were planning to file further charges with the committee next week, bearing on the treatment of men in the field. These will deal with evictions in the Pittsburgh district, particularly, it was stated.

Ralph Payson, 21, of Westhampton, a youthful lumberjack, is believed to have been the last person to see Frances after she left the college dormitory Friday.

REWARD OFFERED

Police have plastered the district adjacent to Smith College with posters offering reward if the girl is located. Authorities of the college are carefully concealing all details possible of the case and have forbidden students to talk to reporters. Police, unable to pick up a trail of the missing girl, blame the "jinx" of Friday, the 13th, day of unsolvable crimes, for their failures.

LAUNCH DRIVE AGAINST BLACKHANDERS

Pittsburgh police launched their promised drive against blackhanders believed responsible for the numerous Mafia murders and bootleg feuds of the past three years, with the result that five men and one woman were in custody today. Charles Spalino, Pete Curatolo, Louis Piadzza, Joe Maira, Ray Nichini and Ida Neri were arrested in raids on 820 Wylie avenue and 27 Chatham street.

MRS. IDA NERI

Mrs. Neri, arrested at 820 Wylie avenue, insisted she knew nothing of the killings. Detectives found a gun in her room, they said.

FIEND SOBS ON WAY TO PRISON

ON BOARD TRAIN TO MARQUETTE PRISON, Jan. 19.—A weeping, broken murderer, closely guarded against lynching or self-destruction, today sped northward to Marquette Prison to spend the remainder of his life in atonement for the slaying of 5-year-old Dorothy Schneider.

Every turn of the train wheels brings Adolph Hotelling, elder of the Owosso Church of Christ, closer to the "life of hard labor" to which he was sentenced by Judge Fred W. Brennan yesterday at Flint after a 15-minute trial.

And every clickety-clack of wheel on rail increases the despondency of this modern Jekyll-Hyde. He has sobbed almost continuously since he left the Flint, Mich., courtroom yesterday for the auto trip to Bay City, where the transfer to the Michigan Central train was made.

No occupant of the private compartment, reserved by the prison party, slept last night. Mark Pailthorpe and Henry Unger, the two deputy sheriffs of Genesee County who brought about the capture of the carpenter-churchman, dared not relax their vigilance.

WARNED TO WATCH

The last warning instruction given them at Bay City by Sheriff Green was: "Keep your eyes open, bring his meals to him, and see that he doesn't slip silverware into his clothing."

As for the prisoner, sleep was driven from him by the haunting memory of the piteous cries uttered by the little kindergarten girl as she died. With bowed head, supported by his two hands, he gave way to racking sobs.

The little moan escaping his lips as regularly and as monotonously as the hum of the rails was the only sound from the private compartment throughout the night.

The deputies expect to deliver their prisoner to Warden Corgan about 3 o'clock this afternoon—just a week after Hotelling killed the little girl and tossed it into the ice-choked stream near her Mt. Morris home.

After Hotelling, himself respected father of five children, enters the prison walls, he will go into solitary confinement for two weeks while the warden and his staff decide upon the nature of the hard labor to be imposed upon him. Hotelling is a carpenter—and a good one—and it is probable that he will be permitted to ply his trade in the prison.

Suicide has been the dominant fear of the two deputies ever since they left Flint with their prisoner yesterday afternoon. But everything has gone safey. The speeding automobile arrived at 3:46 P. M. yesterday at Saginaw, where the party was received by Sheriff August Gugnther.

Few in Saginaw knew of the arrival of the Owosso fiend, for Sheriff Green had carefully guarded his plans. Even so, there were rumors of a mob forming at Bay City to take the slayer when the transfer to the Michigan Central train was attempted.

Investigation proved the rumors unfounded. When the prisoner and the two weary deputies boarded the train there were fewer than 75 persons on the station platform. There was no demonstration of any kind.

The fury of the slain girl's father broke forth in court at Flint yesterday when the fiend was sentenced. Concealing himself in an anteroom, Leslie Schneider sprang forth as Hotelling was brought into the Court House and smashed a hard fist to the slayer's jaw. Then guards intervened, dragged the griefstricken father away and hurried Hotelling to hear his doom pronounced.

A nation-wide search was conducted at that time in belief that she had been abducted by white slavers.

ROBINSON IS UPHELD

ican documents published in the Hearst newspapers.

ROBINSON CALLS CAUCUS

The conference was called by Robinson after Heflin, in an acrimonious debate on the floor yesterday, challenged Robinson's leadership and attacked the presidential candidacy of Gov. Al Smith, of New York, on religious grounds.

Robinson demanded that his colleagues vote either to continue his leadership or decide upon a new leader.

Only one vote was cast against Robinson. It was said this was the vote of Senator Trammell, of Florida. Heflin was not present at the conference.

HEFLIN EXPLAINS

Heflin explained his absence by saying he thought the meeting was called to consider legislative questions.

Eleven other Democrats also failed to attend. They were Ashurst, of Arizona; Blease and Smith, of South Carolina; Dill, of Washington; Edwards, of New Jersey; Hayden, of Arizona; Neely, of West Virginia; Ransdell, of Louisiana; Reed, of Missouri; Stephens, of Mississippi, and Wheeler, of Montana.

The conference adopted this resolution:

"Resolved, that this conference of Democratic members of the Senate express its confidence in the leadership of Senator Robinson and in his service on the special committee named to investigate the alleged secret Mexican documents."

It was proposed by Senator Glass, of Virginia, long a personal friend of Robinson. The Democratic leader did not preside at the session, his place being taken by Senator Bayard, of Delaware. Bayard declined to reveal the name of the one Senator who voted against the resolution. Robinson and Senator Black of Alabama, Heflin's colleague, were excused from voting.

LENGHTY DISCUSSION

There was an hour and a half's discussion of Heflin's anti-Catholic speeches, but the conference took no direct action on this subject, although the Alabaman yesterday demanded a "roll call" on whether his colleagues opposed him making such speeches.

After the conference Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, was asked if the anti-Catholic speeches of Heflin were discussed. He replied that "you can't ask him a civil question without getting into an argument" and suggested that the Heflin tirades were not considered worthy of formal attention.

After the meeting adjourned, Heflin somewhat calmed down overnight, announced that he, too, indorsed the leadership of Robinson and his service "up to date" on the Mexican committee.

"The thing I objected to as indefensible was for the Democratic leader to attack me and defend the Roman Catholic Church," said Heflin. "There were five Roman Catholic Senators here who could have done that, and there was no reason for the Democratic leader to pull their chestnuts out of the fire."

Heflin declared there was no rebuke to him in the resolution adopted. He said he had learned that several "whereases" intended as a rebuke to him, had been eliminated from the resolution before the conference adopted it.

"I indorse Robinson's leadership in the main," he added.

"Are you going to make more speeches?" he was asked.

"Certainly," he replied, "I've just started to discuss this subject."

SANDINO REPORTED SLAIN

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 19—(AP.)—Reports were current today that Gen. Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, had been slain in an airplane bombardment by marines.

Marine headquarters attempted to confirm the reports, which originated with Nicaraguans coming from Neuvo Segovia, scene of the marines' drive against Sandino. He was said to have been killed Saturday at his mountain stronghold at El Chipote. Marine planes strafed rebels there Saturday and on their return reported 40 rebels killed and many wounded.

Sandino had been expected at Jinotega Sunday and although the signal for his arrival was given he never appeared.

Nicaraguan travelers said Sandino's wife left San Rafael hurriedly for El Chipote in response to an urgent message.

The general's body was turned over to his widow at the mountain stronghold, the Nicaraguans asserted. They said she was returning with it to San Rafael for a great funeral.

One plan being considered by the Department of Public Works is to remove Monument Hill, northwest of the flood prevention project, and use the material for raising the streets. The Point Improvement Company and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad plan an $11,000,000 rail and river terminal in the district. ON THE Texas map at a central spot about equally distant from Denver, El Paso, Dallas and Kansas City you find thriving Amarillo. Ten years ago that city's population was 15,494. Now it is 55,778, and growing rapidly, surrounded by an empire of its own, no competitive city within 200 miles. The Amarillo empire, about as big as Ohio, with 35,000,000 acres of level, fertile land, had 150,000 people six years ago and now has more than 500,000.

CHEAP natural gas, heaven knows how many barrels of oil, wheat, cotton, everything tends to make Amarillo prosperous.

But the important thing is that Amarillo celebrates its prosperity by spending $900,000 more on its public schools and intends to keep on spending, so that "school accommodations may always be ahead of the demand."

That means more to the future than all the oil, gas, wheat and cotton. Big New York and Chicago, please note.

their two sons, James, Jr., 16, and Robert, 14, died in convulsions late last night after they had taken a "cough medicine," detectives reported after questioning several of Potter's roomers.

A powerful poison had been put in the liquid the victims had taken, Deputy City Chemist D. L. Cowles declared after he examined the bodies at the county morgue.

Roomers in the house first heard of the tragedy when James, Jr., ran screaming from the second floor.

"Daddy has given us some cough medicine. I can feel it coming on!" he shouted and collapsed at the foot of the stairway, roomers said.

Mrs. Potter followed her son and called for her housekeeper. She also collapsed while bending over her younger son, Robert, who lay on a bed in terrible pain.

The Potters came here from Steubenville, O., last December, and leased a house for rooming purposes, police said. Potter previously had been a prominent capitalist there. He lost a fortune estimated at more than $1,000,000 in coal and oil developments.

MAY RAISE REWARD ON GIRL

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Jan. 19. — (AP.) — St. John Smith, wealthy New York broker and father of Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College freshman, today was considering increasing the $1,000 reward he has offered for information concerning the girl's whereabouts.

Investigators had a long list of new clues before them but seemingly none promised to lead to an unraveling of the mystery which has been unpenetrated since the 19-year-old girl walked out of her room in Dewey Hall last Friday.

The latest lead to be exploded had linked the name of Hugo Bezdek, Jr., son of the Penn State football coach, with the girl.

Bezdek is himself missing from Dartmouth College where he failed to resume his studies after the Christmas holidays, but his family is understood to entertain no especial concern. His place of seclusion is said to be known to them although unrevealed to the public despite the fact that Dartmouth College authorities were asked to help locate him.

Bezdek was brought into the Smith case when it was learned that he had registered at a Springfield hotel from January 7 to 12 and a jeweler of that city said he had sought to purchase an expensive ring.

The son of the football coach told the jeweler that his fiancee's father was wealthy and he named $15,000 as the price he desired to pay. He made an appointment for the following day, but failed to keep it.

The day on which Bezdek checked out of the Springfield hotel was the day before Miss Smith disappeared and in view of the possible connection between the two facts, Detective Joseph Daley of the state police hurried there accompanied by Mr. Smith.

Later Daley announced it had been established that the intended ring was for a Springfield girl and there was no reason to believe Miss Smith had ever met Bezdek.

BAKER FIGHTS COUNTY BRIDGE RAIL RULE

COUNTY'S MOVE NOW

When the county built the Turtle Creek Bridge, it almost put Robert Letham, baker, out of business. He had to cut 25 feet from one side of his building and 11 feet from the other side. Then the county put a three-foot inspection space between his bakery and the sidewalk and erected a heavy iron railing in front of the place. A year ago Letham tore down 75 feet of the railing. The county awarded the baker $25,000 damages, but he said that wouldn't pay for his property damage and 36-year-old business. County commissioners ordered the railing put back and Letham billed for cost. Dotted line shows where railing used to be.

ROBERT LETHAM

"I'll seek legal advice," said Letham, declaring the county almost ruined his business by putting the heavy iron railing in front of his shop.

FACE JAIL IN BANK CRASH

By JOHN P. COWAN,
Staff Correspondent.

FAYETTE CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—Criminal proceedings are involved in the work of untangling the fiscal affairs of Monongahela valley concerns enmeshed financially by the closing of the Fayette City National Bank and reports are current here that other actions in sending men to jail will follow.

Although the bank was closed July 7, last, the depositors, numbering some 3,000 persons, have received no word of hope as to the possibility of early dividends. When the crash came the prospect was held out for a time that the bank, the only financial institution in this old-time community, could be reorganized. While no official word is forthcoming from the receiver or the stockholders, the belief is everywhere expressed that the slow process of liquidating the remaining assets will close the bank's history.

HUNT FOR ASSETS

Agents of the Department of Justice for months have been at work to uncover obscure assets. The delving which has been going on behind the scenes has been exposed piecemeal in desultory hearings in 19 personal bankruptcy cases which have been traced directly to the closing of the bank.

Among those who have filed bankruptcy petitions are Andrew Brown, president of the bank, a resident here and owner of a large stock farm; Guy W. Brown, former state senator and vice president of the bank, who is now living in Pittsburgh, and other men who took front rank in the business and civic affairs of the district.

A receiver was appointed for the Fayette Construction Company and last week its president, John L. Cope, was held under $10,000 bail for the March term of the Fayette County Court on charges of embezzlement. His shortage is declared to be about $40,000. Cope now lives at 6667 Ridgeville street, Pittsburgh.

The arrest of Cope was followed by volleys of rumors. The depositors, including holders of small savings accounts and Fayette and Washington county farmers, were among those who had bought stock in Cope's construction concern.

REFUSED TO ANSWER

The situation was further clouded at a hearing in December before Referee in Bankruptcy James Gregg in Greensburg, when Guy W. Brown stood on his constitutional rights and refused to answer certain questions on cross-examination.

In the examination of Brown, which was directed by attorneys for J. Howard Kelly, of Monessen, receiver for the bank, explanation had been made by the bankrupt at a previous hearing. According to attorneys, examination has disclosed that but $50,000 can be accounted for and they believe that $1,000,000 has been lost by the banker in his various transactions extending over a lengthy period.

Specific instances of alleged transactions were brought up by attorneys. Brown admitted on this examination that Peter Zemo, of Uniontown, a chauffeur employed by the defendant at $75 a month, had borrowed $20,000 from the bank January 13, 1926, and that the proceeds were deposited to Brown's account. At this turn Brown pleaded his constitutional rights and the questioning was terminated.

The total assets of the bank were $2,329,782.65. Receiver Kelly maintains a clerical force at work on the bank's ledgers and advertisments have appeared in the local newspapers asking for depositors to file claims for $500,000 deposits thus far unclaimed.

BIG AUTO SHOW OPENS HERE SATURDAY

Motor car owners and prospective motor car owners, their appetites whetted by stories and reports of new motor cars and of refinements in other cars, are expected to crowd Motor Square Garden Saturday night, when the doors are opened for Pittsburgh's annual automobile show.

Thirty-eight makes of automobiles, in their various models, will be included in the display which will open at 7:30 o'clock. Thirty-two exhibitors of accessories, a display by the East Liberty Y. M. C. A. and booths of two automobile clubs will complete the show, which will occupy two big floors of the huge structure.

The cars will be shown in a setting of blue and gold, and an arrangement of flowers designed by prominent Pittsburgh florists. A new type floor covering in harmony with the show colors will take the place of the conventional rugs that covered the floors of booths in previous years.

The show, which is being staged under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Automobile Dealers' Association, will be open each day of the week of January 23 from 10:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

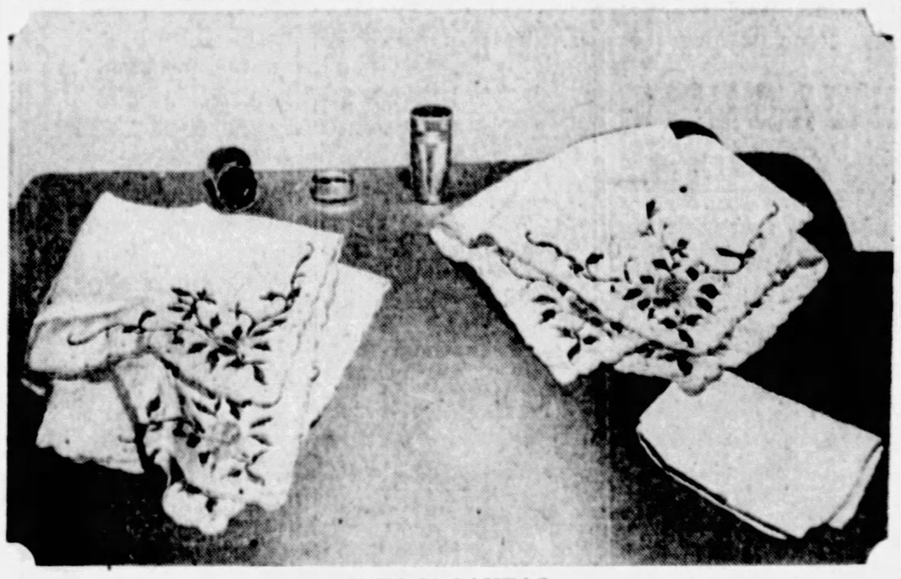
PREPARING SAD NEWS FOR TAXPAYERS

At the rate of 200 per minute, Uncle Sam's assistants are sending out 200,000 income tax return blanks from the office of Collector D. B. Heiner. Replies to the reminders last year, brought in more than $1,000,000 in excess of the return in 1925, despite additional exemptions, and the speed in sending out forms this year indicates that more cash is needed.

CHINATOWN'S CHRISTMAS GIFT MYSTERY



WHO IS SANTA?

Here are three silk handkerchiefs and a 4-ounce can of smoking opium, which Lee Ah Hoon handed Detective Frank Ferris last Christmas eve. When the detective held Lee Ah Hoon as a witness he took him to the store of Yee Hong Cheung. Yee was held for Federal Court on charges of possession of narcotics. Louis Little, his counsel, charges the "gift" was an effort to frame his client.

DATE BROKEN, KILLS GIRL, SELF

Because his girl friend, Stella Bayton, 24, a Negro of Chianti street failed to keep a "date" with him and went to see a sick friend last night, Murphy Yates, 30, a Negro of Frankstown avenue, police say shot and fatally wounded the woman and then killed himself.

The shooting occurred in the home of James Helmes, a Negro of 618 Chianti street. Helmes, who was sick in bed, rolled under the bed during the shooting and then ran to the street and called the police.

AMERICAN ART SHOWN HERE

An exhibition of American sculpture and of modern drawings from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Goodyear opened yesterday at Carnegie Institute, the first two of a series of special exhibitions to be staged this winter. The sculpture show includes about 85 pieces by 58 artists, representing virtually all of the important living American sculptors. The collection of modern drawings is said to be one of the most interesting exhibitions presented at the institute.

Weather Bureau Blasts Mercer's Quake Visions

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 19.—Mercer's population, with one or two exceptions, was surprised to learn that two earthquakes had "shaken" the town between 8 and 9 a. m. today.

George McElhency, court house custodian, reported that he had felt slight tremors. Others reported having felt a faint disturbance.

The weather bureau suggested a distant blast, if any.

PLAN 3 SCHOOLS IN MT. LEBANON

Two new public schools will be erected and the site for a new high school will be purchased in Mt. Lebanon through the favorable voting Tuesday to increase the bonded indebtedness of the school district $230,000. In all 10 districts of the township the question was voted upon favorably. New schools will be erected in the Sunset Hills and Beverly Hills districts and a site for a new high school will be bought.

STAGE FOLK TAKE -:- FOOD TO MINERS -:- AT CASTLE SHANNON

GIRLS VISIT BARRACKS

Fourteen girls appearing at the Aldine Theater with Harry Girard, paid a visit to the miners living in union barracks at Castle Shannon yesterday and took with them a good supply of groceries, which was distributed among the needy. Women and children welcomed the girls, particularly the children, for whom they had candy and other little treats. The photograph shows the company upon their arrival, with Mr. Girard on the extreme left and Jack Simons, manager of the Aldine, next to him.

MINERS GIVEN FOOD

Bread, sugar, cornmeal, canned goods of various kinds and other household necessities were given to needy families. The girls disregarded mud and dirt and pitched in with willing hands, carrying the food into the desolate barrack homes.

A DISCOVERY

Rita Cummings discovered this tiny bit of humanity tucked away in a crib in a draughty bedroom and brought it outside for the other girls to see.

SURPRISE FOR CHILDREN

The children presented a pitiful sight. They took what was offered eagerly, without asking questions. After helping the girls distribute the food, they received a big surprise when they found they had not been overlooked in the matter of candy, cakes, etc. Mothers had to watch them for fear they would overeat on this grand occasion.

CITY LEADS AUTO DEATH INCREASE

TOLL JUMPS 30 PER CENT IN YEAR

Pittsburgh led the major cities of the country in increased auto deaths in 1927, according to figures from 78 cities announced by the Commerce Department at Washington today.

This city's increase was approximately 30 per cent, from 161 deaths in 1926 to 214 fatalities in 1927, while the nation-wide increase was 5 per cent. St. Louis appeared second, jumping from 141 to 185, while many cities showed substantial decreases in such accidents.

The Commerce Department's figures differed from those offered by Dr. G. R. Burns, head of the City Health Department. Dr. Burns said there had been 209 deaths from auto accidents, an increase of 45.

New York, because of its unprecedented population, reported the greatest number, 1,581, compared with 1,468 in 1926, but proportionately its record fares well in comparison.

MERCER BAR ASSOCIATION IS GIVEN OLD PICTURE

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 10.—Miss Etta Stewart has presented the Mercer County Bar Association a picture of the Mercer county officials between the years of 1803 and 1891.

Thieves Get $50 And Snapshots As Souvenirs

A bundle of snapshots were included in the loot obtained by a robber in the home of Raymond Mazes, of 2034 Lowrie street, North Side. The robber, using a key in the front door, ransacked the house last night and took the snapshots and $50 in cash.

FALLING POLE KILLS WORKER

Timothy Coyne, 45, of 801 Forbes street, was killed almost instantly at the plant of the Austen Chemical Company, Neville Island, today when a wooden pole broke and fell on his head. He was pronounced dead at the Ohio Valley Hospital, and Coroner Mullin Jackson took the body to the county morgue.

SANCTIFICATION SERVICE HELD BY VOLUNTEERS

Sanctification services are being held this week by the Volunteers of America in Pittsburgh and Western Pennsylvania. Special meetings are being held at the downtown and East End missions, and Sunday there will be two meetings at each mission.

DEFINE AUDIT'S SCOPE, URGES MRS. MILLER

Controller Robert G. Woodside was asked to define as quickly as possible the scope of the audit of county financial affairs, in a letter received today from Mrs. J. O. Miller of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Miller said:

"Unless the audit scope is defined now, circumstances in the future might arise which would make it difficult for you to push through an audit providing for the fullest investigation of the various departments of the county government with a view to co-ordination, economy and efficiency of administration."

Mrs. Miller declared that the audit should include checking of payrolls, of units of cost, of the cost of hiring outside equipment, of the Poor Board expenditures and of aldermanic fees. The firm making the audit, she suggested, should make recommendations for the improvement of the county accounting systems and should be authorized to employ outside attorneys. Efficiency surveys should be made also, Mrs. Miller said, suggesting, especially, a survey into the cost of cleaning the Courthouse and City-County building which, she charged, is exorbitant.

Speaker

J. C. M'QUISTON

NEWSPAPER "AD" VALUE STRESSED

The benefits of newspaper advertising were stressed at noon today by J. C. McQuiston, advertising manager of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, at the luncheon of the manufacturers' division of the Pittsburgh Advertising Club in Kaufmann's auditorium. He pointed out numerous successes of newspaper-advertised products and cited his own company as a firm believer in this medium.

The address of McQuiston was the key address of talks being made throughout the United States this week in observance of Newspaper Advertising Day, being sponsored by the International Advertising Association. The speaker likened the force of newspaper advertising to that of electricity and drew attention to the fact that his company has attained success through both forces.

Newspaper advertising day marks the two hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, and advertisers and publishers throughout the country are paying homage to the memory of the great statesman and publisher this week.

In part, Mr. McQuiston said:

"It is proper at this time that I should discuss the advertising power and influence of the daily newspaper. That I feel qualified to handle this subject is only because I have spent 20 years studying the advertising problems of the electrical industry, particularly during the last year, when the company with which I am connected, the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, has had a wide and favorable experience in the use of newspaper advertising.

"The very gratifying results the company received from newspaper advertising during last year justify our making the statement that the newspapers offer the manufacturer an opportunity to "spotlight" his advertising in a very definite way. The newspaper itself is a vital factor in any community's prosperity. Therefore, in using the newspaper for your advertising medium, you are using a medium that has a substantial local prestige.

FIND MENDOZA 'NOT GUILTY'

Lucio Mendoza, 19-year-old Mexican of Cherry way, Homestead, was acquitted of murder by a jury in Criminal Court yesterday before Visiting Judge A. B. Smith of Susquehanna county. His defense was that he killed his friend, Porfirio Cerbantz, 35, a Mexican of the same address, on the old Brown homestead grounds, Browns Hill, by crushing his skull and slashing his throat, while resisting an attack July 5. The defendant was represented by Attorneys M. Barney Cohen and Viers D. Edwards. The jury was out two hours.

Farmers Bank

selects automatic inductor control for ten new elevators

Established nearly 100 years ago—in 1832 to be exact—the Farmers Deposit National Bank in Pittsburgh has always kept pace with the modern trend in business. These traditional and progressive principles were exemplified recently when ten Westinghouse K & H passenger elevators equipped with automatic inductor control were specified to replace the less modern equipment.

Swift, safe, sure, the automatic inductor control as designed and applied by Westinghouse is the last word in elevator operation. The control is automatic—good service does not depend upon the skill of the operator. The motion is smooth at all times. There is no jockeying at floor landings, and passengers are never required to step up or down—the car always stops level with the floor. No elaborate equipment is necessary and maintenance is kept at minimum. Noise and mechanical failures are prevented, as there are no physical contacts between the stationary and moving parts in the hatchway.

ARRANGE PLANE SALESROOM HERE

Pittsburgh is one of the first cities in the United States to boast of an airplane salesroom and display in the downtown section. Announcement has been made that the Pierpoint Motors Company, 5001 Baum boulevard, dealers in Hudson and Essex cars, have added Ryan and Travelair airplanes to their "line."

J. E. Murdoch, sales manager, and J. R. Pierpoint, president, declare that "aviation today is where automobiles were 20 years ago. The time is rapidly approaching when hundreds of private planes will be in use in addition to larger commercial planes."

The six-story Pierpoint plant will be increased to nine stories, at least two of the additional stories to be used for the display of airplanes and parts. Demonstrations of the equipment will be made at Mayer Field, Bridgeville, under direction of J. Warren Smith, general manager, Mayer Aircraft Corporation.

Eating Beefs' Liver Makes Old Folks Feel Younger

The scientists have been busy again and now comes a marvelous discovery—

Beef Livers are full of vitalizing Vitamines—just the kind of vitamines that turn thin, watery blood into rich red blood in such a short space of time that even physicians are astonished.

Some physicians call these wonderful vitamines the "Mysterious Substance" but whatever the name, they do put red blood, strength, vigor and vitality into weak, worn-out, thin-blooded people.

You can get the benefit of these vitamines by eating liver, but that process is too slow for the average ambitious American.

So now scientists are extracting these vitamines or "mysterious substance" from fresh beefs liver and putting them up in the form of an elixir called "Hemo-Liver."

How a man may look when his blood is thin and weak—and the change that takes place when the blood is rich and red.

While thousands of people of all ages are restoring their health with Hemo-Liver old folks find that it is just what they need to make them feel younger.

They can't grow younger in years but they can grow younger in spirit and that is just what the thinking ones are doing.

Why not get a big bottle of Hemo-Liver today—eight days' treatment—from any live druggist who keeps abreast of the times and if after you have taken one bottle you don't say Hemo-Liver is the greatest health builder you ever heard of—get your money back.

"Men and women who are suffering from lowered vitality, general weakness, overwork, nervous breakdown or anemia can put their faith in Hemo-Liver. For feeble old people, girls 13 to 18 and in convalescense it won't fail. It strengthens the nerves, increases the red blood cells, promotes health and rebuilds energy so quickly that often physicians are astonished." You can get Hemo-Liver at any May Drug store.

NAME BOROUGH, CITY IN SUITS

John and Etta Haynes, of West View, entered suit against the Borough of West View in Common Pleas Court, asking $30,000 damages. The plaintiffs complain that by reason of a clogged sewer last August 26 water was permitted to overrun and undermine the walls of a brick garage owned by the plaintiffs in the Perry highway at West View. Haynes conducts an automobile agency in the building that was damaged.

For injuries received last February 27, when a defective tread broke on a pair of steps maintained by the City of Pittsburgh in Finland street, Charles Kolinski asks $10,000 damages. The plaintiff avers that while ascending the steps into Fleetwood street, the tread gave way, causing him to fall and break his ribs and suffer injuries to his arm.

FLARES RAISE NEW HOPE FOR MISSING AIRMEN

LIGHTS FLASH ON DESERTED ISLAND

By International News Service.

QUEBEC, Jan. 19.—Recalling the mystery lights of the Perthenka and the north country's belief that Capts. Nungesser and Coli were then wandering its trackless wastes, inhabitants of the north shore of the St. Lawrence, 50 miles east of this city, were highly excited today over the appearance of "mystery flares" for the past three nights from uninhabited Hare Island. The island is situated several miles from shore in the ocean shipping channel.

Yesterday a government air mail plane was waiting at St. Agnes to fly over the island and seek signs of life, but was hindered from taking off by blizzard conditions. The plane will wait at St. Agnes until the weather clears, then will undertake its search.

Father Gauthier, parish priest at St. Simeon, situated on the mainland directly opposite Hare Island, declared that the flares had been visible for three nights. After failing to appear one night during a heavy snow storm, they were seen again on Tuesday night and were evidently lighted at different parts of the island.

Edgar Belley, of St. Simeon, declares he saw three rockets sent skyward at intervals of a minute on Tuesday night. Residents of the mainland cannot reach Hare Island across the ice because of a strip of open water halfway from shore.

THE FIRST AND FOUR MILLIONTH

1913 AND 1928 CHEVROLETS

The giant strides made by the automobile industry in the past 15 years are aptly illustrated by the two photos shown above. The upper one is of the four millionth car built by the Chevrolet Motor Company, which rolled off the assembly line last week. Below is the first Chevrolet built 15 years ago. It still runs as was demonstrated in a recent dress parade in Detroit.

Miracles Happen, Admits Lauder, Giving Penny

LONDON, Jan. 19.—(AP.)—Sir Harry Lauder, embarking for America, left a small boy behind in London wondering if the stories about the Scotch being a close race are not exaggerated.

The picturesque singer, strolling about the Waterloo station, approached a small boy gazing longingly at a chocolate vending machine. He handed the boy a coin and said:

"Here, my lad, is a penny and tell your mother the age of miracles is not past, for that's from Harry Lauder."

DRESS IGNITES, CHILD DIES

When her clothing ignited from an open fireplace before which she was dressing yesterday, Louise Crews, 12, of 129 Ashton avenue, was fatally burned. The child was taken to the South Side Hospital where she died a few hours later.

FUNDS GIVEN HOSPITAL

The board of trustees of the St. Margaret Memorial Hospital, at their monthly meeting yesterday, announced the gift to the hospital of sufficient funds for the establishment of a laboratory for clinical and biological research.

The donor is Mrs. John C. Oliver, of Sewickley, and the new department of the hospital is to be known as the John C. Oliver Memorial Research Foundation.

The purpose of the foundation is to establish facilities for clinical research.

AUSTRALIAN PRAISES PROHIBITION LAW

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 19.—"The eighteenth amendment is the greatest humanitarian act ever written on the statute books of a nation," said Dr. Gifford Gordon of Melbourne, Australia, in addressing the Kiwanis Club here yesterday. Dr. Gordon was sent to this country by a group of Melbourne business men who wished to receive an unprejudiced report of the results of prohibition. He made four addresses here yesterday.

CHEVROLET MEN END CONFERENCE

Six hundred and fifty Chevrolet dealers treked tired, contented paths back to West Virginia, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania last night, their one-day convention in Pittsburgh successfully topped by a banquet at which high Chevrolet officials spoke.

They came here yesterday for the largest automobile meeting of its kind ever held in Pittsburgh and brought with them 150 bankers with whom they do business. At the banquet in the William Penn hotel they agreed that theirs had been a busy, interesting program which warranted large dividends.

R. H. Grant, vice-president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, the man who is pointed out when persons ask how Chevrolet sold more than 1,800,000 machines in 1927, spoke frankly and winningly to the banquet audience. He told of "bad management" in the past and he traced the transition from that condition. He allowed the 1927 record to speak for itself and he was optimistic concerning 1928.

"Be optimistic," Mr. Grant advised, "for we face a prosperous year. This is the presidential year and we expect both parties to give us acceptable candidates. Consequently we face the election calmly and in good condition. Too, since Coolidge took office times have always been prosperous."

In addressing himself to the banker-guests, Mr. Grant pictured trinity of interests, the dealer, the manufacturer and the banker, and urged utmost co-operation among that trinity. Each, he said, should let the other know of its progress, of its condition at times, so that mutual benefit would be assured ultimately.

In introducing W. E. Holler, sales manager of the Chevrolet Company's zone, Mr. Grant described him as one of "the best three zone managers we have." And Mr. Holler drew applause by referring to Mr. Grant as one of the "outstanding merchandising 'geniuses' of the country."

M. D. Douglas, assistant general sales manager of the Chevrolet company, urged and stressed proper direction of beginning salesmen.

Other speakers were J. C. Chick, regional sales manager, who complimented the dealers for the records they had achieved in 1927, and D. U. Petherick, General Motors representative of Frigidaire in this territory.

A novel program was enthusiastically greeted by the dealers at the afternoon session. At Syria Mosque they were the audience for a series of playlets, presented with a thorough finish, which emphasized the correct methods of transacting retail business and, as means to correctives, now and then the incorrect methods.

At this meetnig the dealers were told of the company's plans and hopes to sell more than 1,900,000 cars this year and how, with that end in view, production capacity had been increased 1,000 cars daily.

RYAN AND TRAVEL AIR PLANES

NOW ON DISPLAY AT OUR SHOWROOM
Col. Lindbergh's "WE"
IN every line of endeavor time has become the all-important element, and just as the telephone and telegraph have taken their place in the advancement of modern business by their ability to save time, so the mighty Hudson took its place in land transportation, and now looking a step further into the time-saving element and with that ever apparent vision which guides the steps of progressive organizations, the Pierpoint Motor Company have taken the representation in Pittsburgh for two of the foremost manufacturers of aeroplanes and are now displaying in their showroom a line of aeroplanes—The Ryan and Travel Air planes. Priced at $2,500 to $12,000. We book local sightseeing trips or air passage to any air port in North America. Our planes have accommodation for one to four persons.
You can quickly learn to fly the Pierpoint way. Special instructors available.

TELLS WHERE ALDINE HOLDUP LOOT IS CACHED

S. R. O. SIGNS FOR MINERS' BENEFIT

"For humanity's sake," a midnight benefit show of more than 20 acts, the cream of the entertainment in the playhouses this week, will be presented at the Davis tonight by the Theater Managers' Association of Pittsburgh. Actuated no less by a desire to aid the unfortunate families of the miners than by eagerness to see a "super-show" for a dollar, the public have snapped up all the tickets. For late applicants there will be standing room only.

But another opportunity to see a show equally good but entirely different will be presented next Thursday, when another midnight entertainment for the same purpose and at the same price will be given at the Sheridan Square Theater.

Furthermore, for the benefit of those who may be unable for any reason to attend tonight's show but desire to enjoy the wealth of fun and music that is to be provided, the Theater Managers' Association has arranged with radio station WJAS, Pickering's, for the broadcasting of the performance. The broadcast, under direction of Announcer Howard Clark, will begin at 11:45 P. M. from the Davis Theater stage. Since it is believed the radio audience, no less than the theater audience, will desire to contribute to the relief of the miners' wives and children, an appeal in the sufferers' behalf will be broadcast in connection with the show. Arrangements have been made whereby listeners may send gifts. They should be addressed to Broadcasting Station WJAS, care of M. H. Pickering Company, Penn avenue and Tenth street, and marked "Destitute Miners' Fund."

What a treat is in store for both theater and radio audiences may be judged by a glance at the program for the entertainment. Either Charley Foy, of the Younger Foys, appearing at the Davis, or Frank Gaby of the "Gay Paree" company at the Alvin, will be master of ceremonies. These will "go on":

Alvin—Chic Sale, Rita Gould, Kello Brothers.

Pitt—Thurston the Magician.

Nixon—Billy B. Van, Jeannette McDonald, Frank McIntyre, Carl Randall and Peggy Cornell.

Loew's Penn—Billy Randall, violinist; the Manhatters Quartet and I-Ace Accordionists.

Loew's Aldine—Barrett and Cuneen, Smith and Hart, Castleton and Mack.

Davis—Th. Younger Foys, Guy and Pearl Magley, Yacopi Troupe and Al Gordon's Comedy Canines.

Grand—Six Dixie Dulsies.

Liberty—Six Jolly Jesters.

Schenley—Jack McClusky and Company.

Sheridan Square—Mickey and Peggy, in "Hollywood," Hal H. Wilson, monologist; Fred and Jane Rinehart, in blackface comedy.

Harris—Gene Green, comic songster, and Rose and Rose.

Thousands of families in the mining towns of the Pittsburgh district are experiencing the direst poverty because of being out of work for many months. For non-payment of rent many of the miners have been evicted from the coal companies' houses and are living, herded together in unsanitary congestion, in hastily erected and cheerless barracks. It is for them that tonight's show, and that of next Thursday at the Sheridan Square, have been arranged.

SLEUTHS LEARN $3,400 BURIED IN INDIANA

After a grilling of several hours which started when he was returned here last night from New Albany, Ind., Fred West, 20, alias Richard Hawthorn, of Fairmont, W. Va., early today "broke," detectives say, and admitted his participation in the holdup December 14 of the Aldine Theater in which more than $5,000 was stolen, and told of a cache in which part of the loot is buried.

The alleged confession was secured by Detectives P. E. Moran and John Hickey, who questioned the suspect after he was returned by Detective Guy Dailey.

West gave detectives information concerning the hiding place of $3,400, on the outskirts of New Albany, and the name of a confederate during the holdup. Indiana authorities will be asked to search for the money.

West was traced by Detective Moran who found that the two theater robbers had stolen an automobile in Connellsville, Pa., and had started west after the robbery. A description wired New Albany police resulted in West being arrested Saturday.

The robbery of the theater was staged while the place was filled and many persons were in the lobby near the office in which the holdup occurred.

Gerald Murphy, assistant manager was counting the money when the robbers entered, flashed revolvers, scooped up the money and fled.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

REHEARSES HIS MURDER PLEA IN CELL

By International News Service.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 19.—William Edward Hickman's histrionic passion, centering upon himself as the principal actor, is finding solid expression, according to reports emanating today from the cell in the Hall of Justice, where the kidnaper-murderer of Marian Parker is confined, pending his trial which is scheduled to begin next Wednesday.

The "Fox," it was reported, has penned his lines, a "closing argument" he plans to recite before the jury in the forthcoming trial.

The document is said to be an effort on the part of the youthful killer to establish his plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity" by ascribing the fiendish murder and dismemberment of the Parker girl to an immutable providence, holding irresistable sway over his will.

The paper on which the "closing argument" is written is reported to be in the possession of the District Attorney's office here.

Jail reports have it that Hickman has been rehearsing the lines he composed after the fashion of tragedians mulling over their parts in the play. This recalls the fact that soon after his first confession Hickman stated that he would conduct his own defense and had no need for an attorney.

Judge Carlos S. Hardy, who is slated to preside at the trial, declined to comment on rumors that another jurist would be selected as presiding judge because of Judge Hardy's known opposition to capital punishment.

That Hickman's sanity will be a bone of contention between alienists hired by the defense on one side and state psychiatrists on the other was indicated today, when Judge Hardy intimated that he would not avail himself of the California statutes permitting courts to appoint impartial sanity commissions.

JESUIT PRIEST HEADS MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 19.—The Rev. William M. Magee, S. J. noted young Jesuit educator and administrator, has been appointed President of Marquette University, it was announced last night. Father Magee succeeds the Rev. Albert C. Fox, S. J., who has been president for the last six years.

SUES TO REGAIN REALTY GIFT, LOSES

After Mrs. Anna M. Guyton of Shaler township had given a lot to Blanche W. McCance "for love and affection because of respect for her mother," Mrs. Guyton brought suit to recover the lot, claiming it had not been a gift—but a jury decided it had been. Mrs. McCance and her husband live at Elfinwild station, on the Butler road, both plaintiff and defendants having been residents of Shaler township for a number of years. The case was heard by Judge Thomas J. Ford, the McCance's being represented by Attorney Sion B. Smith. The lot in question is worth $600, on which a house has been built. Mrs. Guyton holds a $6,000 mortgage on the property, but demanded payment for the lot, denying she had made Mr. and Mrs. McCance a present of it. Witnesses testified to the contrary.

Sore throats need this Double-Treatment

RUBBED on the throat, Vicks relieves in two direct ways:

(1) Its vapors, released by the body heat, are inhaled direct to the air passages; and

(2) At the same time Vicks "draws out" the soreness like an old-fashioned poultice.

Second-hand beauty

THE world is full of women who are beginning to lose the fresh bloom of health—and are feverishly searching for a substitute. Eagerly, hopefully, they haunt the beauty shops. Trying this. Trying that. Buying beauty by the hour. . . . At best what an empty achievement they attain! Second-hand beauty. What a pitiful substitute for the natural charm of health!

Life could tell a vastly different story if more women knew the dreadful part constipation plays in wrecking youth and beauty. If more men but realized how this terrible scourge undermines strength and health. Constipation is at the bottom of many a trouble. It is the weight on drooping shoulders. The ache in dragging muscles. The pain in throbbing heads. The cause of literally dozens of diseases.

And more's the shame when it can be so easily and quickly relieved. So pleasantly! Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring prompt relief. More than that—lasting, safe prevention.

Why "all-bran" is so effective

It is "bulk" that combats constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is rich in bulk because it is 100% bran. This bulk absorbs moisture and distributes it throughout the alimentary canal. At the same time, it gently distends the intestines. Exercising them. Sweeping out poisonous wastes. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to do this effectively. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Because it is 100% bran and accomplishes 100% results.

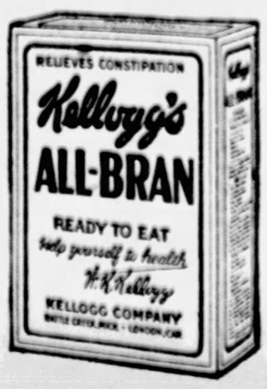
Better than drugs

Unlike habit-forming pills and laxatives whose dose must be continually increased to remain effective—the quantity of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN you require need never vary. ALL-BRAN works as nature works—naturally. A simple, healthful cereal that combines valuable food elements as well as the corrective bulk needed in the diet. Isn't that much better than pills or drugs?

Eat with milk or cream—or with fruits or honey added for delicious variety. Soaking a few moments in milk brings out all its nut-like flavor. Use it in cooking too. Try the recipes on every package. Sprinkle it into soups. Mix it with other cereals. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal . . . for healthful regularity.

Be sure, though, you get genuine Kellogg's—the original ALL-BRAN. Don't risk part-bran substitutes. At most, they can prove but partially effective. ALL-BRAN is sold by grocers everywhere. Served at hotels and restaurants. On dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN



Guaranteed!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.

Rosalind Ruby, On the Road To Renown as Prima Donna, Was Shopgirl On Broadway

By GEORGE SEIBEL.

GEORGE SEIBEL

HER name is really Rosalind Ruby, and she has actually been a shop girl, and now she is on the road to grand opera. It sounds like Laura Jean Libbey in the old "Family Story Paper," but truth is stranger than fiction, as we learn every day. The girl who sings three or four songs at the Davis Theater every afternoon and evening this week is only another proof of that proverb.

Rosalind Ruby sounds like a romantic invention, but Miss Ruby's ancestors brought that name over from Bohemia three generations ago. And she got Rosalind because her mother had seen "As You Like It" in Cleveland, and admired Shakespeare's heroine, and wished her own little girl to be as bright and self-reliant. If there's anything in names, Mrs. Ruby was inspired.

Little Rosalind loved music, and was singing all day long as far back as she can remember. But Cleveland is not Paris or Milan or even Prague, and Rosalind's father was an invalid, and the family were poor. So Rosalind went to work in a big department store, and had a good position. Still she was singing whenever and wherever she could, till one day an entertainment was given by the store's employes, and a patron of the arts heard her sing and recognized that she had a real voice and a real personality. After that Rosalind got lessons for two years, and she worked harder than ever, determined to go to New York as soon as she could.

A little over a year ago Rosalind Ruby landed in New York. She faced the usual struggle to get an audition, to say nothing of an engagement. But she had the spirit of her namesake Rosalind, and didn't wait for things to turn up. Again she got a job as a shop-girl in one of the many stores along Broadway, amid heaps and hills of silks and laces. She needed money—money for the invalid father, money for her music lessons. According to her family tradition and training, brought from Bohemia, the way to get money is to work for it. So Rosalind again got a job—but dreamed on, being now near the Metropolitan Opera House, so near and yet so far!

Then Queena Mario came into that shop.

Queena Mario was one of the stars of the Metropolitan. As her purchases were being listed one of the girls told her about Rosalind's ambition, and Queena Mario became interested. She saw Rosalind, and Rosalind looked good to her. She had Rosalind come to her home and sing, and it sounded good to her. Then she had Rosalind sing for Monsieur Pelletier, her husband, conductor at the Met.

The result was that Rosalind Ruby had an audition within one week. Both Otto Kahn and Gatti-Casazza considered her voice a find. She was encouraged to get further training, and took up her studies anew with Estelle Liebling, one of the best vocal teachers of New York. In a short time she had an offer to sing Marguerite in "Faust" with a specially organized company, and this engagement lasted 22 weeks. At the beginning of the present season Miss Ruby accepted the offer to go into vaudeville for a while, and that brought her to Pittsburgh and to the Davis Theater, revealing one of the best young voices and an intelligent personality.

She can do simple songs or elaborate colaratura work—she can please shop-girls or critics. She is without false pride and believes in hard work. And the day will come when people who hear her now in vaudeville will hear her in grand opera. It will be true, the little girl's dream, and therefore stranger than Laura Jean Libbey and the "Family Story Paper."

Some Players -:- Coming Soon -:- To Pittsburgh

McKAY MORRIS, of the cast of "The Road to Rome," stage attraction booked for an engagement here.

ODETTE MYRTIL, of "Countess Maritza," operetta chosen for stage of Alvin next week.

NORMA SHEARER is the star of the film version of "The Student Prince," soon to be in the Penn.

LADY COULD NOT BEND HER KNEES

Ten Herbs Relieved Awful Pains in Arms and Legs. Indigestion Gone.

"For six months I had terrible pains in my arms and legs and sometimes they were all through my body," was the statement of Mrs. William Peters, 526 East Northampton Street, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

MRS. WILLIAM PETERS

"My hands would swell and become so stiff I could not bend my fingers and I could hardly raise my arms above my head. In the morning my limbs would become so numb I would have to rub them to restore feeling. My stomach was badly disordered, and I had dizzy spells and black spots before my eyes. My liver and kidneys were inactive. I was weak, nervous and run-down and could not sleep.

"Ten Herbs seemed to cleanse my system, and all pain and distress disappeared. After using several bottles I feel like a new woman. I have new strength and ambition. I am glad to recommend Ten Herbs to the public, as I believe it will help others as it did me."

Ten Herbs is a wonderful mixture of ten of the finest natural medicinal ingredients that are known to mankind, which will go into your system and give it the thorough kind of cleansing that it may have been in need of for a long time, and which will also have a splendid effect on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Ten Herbs builds strength, adds weight, increases energy, relieves aches and pains and restores appetite and sleep.

The Ten Herbs Man is at the May Drug Store, 538 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free sample given.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plasters.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have best cough medicine you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this famous home-made cough syrup. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. It tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, which has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

IF RHEUMATIC BEGIN ON SALTS

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure, Eat No Sweets.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat no sweets of any kind for a while, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of Jad Salts occasionally to help keep down uric and toxic acids.

Rheumatism is caused by poison toxins, called acids, which are generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this poison, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove body waste and also to stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

William Boyd to Do "Tunney" On Screen in De Mille Version Of Broadway Play, "Celebrity"

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS,

Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.

IT isn't often that the mere purchase of a play creates such interest in a publicity department as was caused by C. B. De Mille's announcement that he had bought "Celebrity." But then, it isn't every day that a member of the P. A. staff boasts of a brother who is a playwright.

Willard Keefe, author of "Celebrity," happens to bear that relation to Jim Keefe on the De Mille staff of publicity men. "Celebrity" is the tale of a gentlemanly prize fighter—a highbrow who likes to discuss philosophy and such, in other words, it is supposed to be the story of Gene Tunney, the pugilist who sought to elevate prize fighting.

William Boyd will play the Tunney role which, they tell me at the De Mille studios, has received a big hand in New York. I cannot say as to the success of the play on Broadway because I haven't seen it, nor have I heard anything beyond what the De Mille company claim for their most recent screen acquisition.

The modern plays may have more subtlety and more indirect sophistication, but it is not easy to beat some of the old-time stage dramas. "The Whip," produced by W. A. Brady, was one of these old-timers—the sort that provided a chance to cry a little, laugh a little and feel a great deal of suspense. It was filmed many years ago with Irving Cummings as the hero. Now, it is to be filmed again as a John Francis Dillon special for First National. Dorothy Mackaill and Lowell Sherman have already been signed for two of the leading roles and Estelle Taylor is being interviewed for another of the principal parts. I am wondering, if Estelle does sign on the dotted line, how First National will be able to differentiate between "The Whip Woman," which she recently finished for them, and "The Whip." But then, changing titles in the movies doesn't mean anything these days.

An afternoon spent on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot provided one piece of news. "Bellamy Trial," recently put in book form after it had appeared in a magazine, will go into production with Victor Seastrom directing. Mr. Seastrom is a foreign director who has brought with him the art that made the old Swedish Biograph pictures such a joy. He has a certain something that distinguishes his work and which gives any picture he directs an interest for those of us who like artistic movies. A cast has not yet been collected. "Bellamy Trial" is a murder story—a mystery, of course. The two are usually associated in any drama.

If Louis B. Mayer, Irving Thalberg and the rest of the magnates at Metro-Golwyn-Mayer believe they are going to talk John Gilbert out of directing his own play, "Downstairs," they're all wrong. I happened to meet Jack and he rivaled C. B. De Mille in his enthusiasm over his play. He calls it "Downstairs' because it deals with the servant quarters. His hero is a chauffeur and whether you can visualize Eric Von Stroheim or not as a chauffeur, it doesn't matter. He is Jack's choice and he has aggreed to play the part. Mr. Gilbert expects his brain child will go into production next summer. If it doesn't—well, it is going to be a terrible blow to him, for his heart is set on directing a picture.

The old brain is so filled with movies that occasionally a play gets parked in a corner and forgotten. But "The Mud Turtle" isn't one that is apt to be overlooked. We've been hearing for so long that the Fox Company is waiting for the wheat fields to ripen in order to produce it that we have been wondering when it would reach the screen. Next fall is the promise and there is every reason to believe that F. W. Murnau will direct it. What a story for him! Another "Sunrise," but with a background of Minnesota. As a play, with Helen MacKellar, it was much discussed. As a motion picture it has unlimited opportunities for drama.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random. John Gilbert with a formidable yellow manuscript in his hand, in Howard Strickling's office. Edith Mayer playing bridge and demonstrating that her father, L. B., can have a good partner at the game anytime he chooses. Anita Stewart in a most becoming red dress also engrossed in the game that has so captivated Hollywood. Alice Glazer (Mrs. Barney) trying to see that the good players were seated at the same table and the bad ones ditto—a case of separating the wheat from the chaff that requires tact and courage. Norma Talmadge wearing a new hat that looked as if it had been copied from a German helmet.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacupful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and relieve grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

VARIED BILLS COMING

Ethel Waters, who comes to the Nixon next week, opening Monday evening, January 23, for one week only, in "Africana," is a Negro comedienne said to have unusual ability. She is advertised "the finest artist of her race and generation." Seats go on sale in the box office today.

The sale of seats for the engagement of "Countess Maritza" in the Alvin, which begins Monday evening, is now on. Among many song hits in "Countess Maritza" is "Play, Gypsies, Play," which is sung by Walter Woolf, who carries the leading male role in this operetta. The music of "Play, Gypsies, Play," was suggested by an old Hungarian gypsy song.

Weir's baby elephants are to perform in the Davis next week. Despite their small size these animals are said to be highly trained.

Gloria Swanson, in "Sadie Thompson," coming to the Penn Monday, January 23, is supported by Raoul Walsh, who also is her director; Lionel Barrimore, and others.

Thurston, the magician, who is entertaining audiences in the Pitt, will remain for a second week, beginning next Monday night, and the sale of seats is now on. This magician will play a matinee today and another Saturday. This is Thurston's twenty-second year as an illusionist and mystefier and the only one remaining of all the famous entertainers in this line.

Bernice and Panzy, "The Southern Melody Maids," are scheduled to appear on the stage of the Grand next week. They play a variety of instruments.

Vaudeville in the Harris next week will feature Billy Champ and company in a mystery farce. Other attractions and a photoplay feature, "In a Moment of Temptation," will complete the bill.

Reed Howes, leading man for Claire Windsor in "Fashion Madness," which will be shown in Loew's Aldine the week of January 23, is a Harvard graduate.

"Bowery Burlesquers" will be the attraction in the Academy next week, with Hattie Beall and Morris Perry in the principal roles.

A vaudeville feature in the Sheridan Square next week will be "Suite 16," a miniature musical melange. The two screen features will be Conrad Veidt in "A Man's Past" and Thunder, a canine actor, in "Wolf's Fangs."

"Old San Francisco," the photoplay announced for the Olympic next week, will be shown to the accompaniment of a full Vitaphone orchestra score. Other Vitaphone numbers will be presented also.

Opal Taylor, a Pittsburgh girl, is with "Joy Riders," next week's burlesque at the Gayety. Her early experience was obtained here.

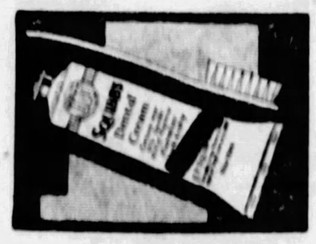
PITTSBURGH TRUST CO. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The stockholders of the Pittsburgh Trust Company at their annual meeting yesterday elected the following board of directors: James I. Buchanan, John B. Corrin, Louis H. Gethoefer, John C. Knapp, George M. Laughlin, Jr., Martin L. Moore, D. Gregg McKee, William P. Snyder, Jr., Alexander C. Tener, John B. Tonkin and Lemuel W. Young, Jr.

* Why do you clean your teeth?



RECENTLY, in order to secure a definite statement regarding the cause and prevention of tooth decay and gum infections, E. R. Squibb & Sons addressed themselves to the dental profession. Through a world-famous research institution they caused certain questions to be asked of 50,000 dentists. Here is the opinion of the experts:

95% of the answers agree that acids most frequently cause tooth decay and gum irritation.

95% of the answers agree that the most serious trouble occurs at the place where teeth meet gums—known as The Danger Line.

85% state that the best product to prevent these acids from causing decay and irritating the gums is Milk of Magnesia.

These statements explain the fundamental reason why, in addition to ordinary cleanliness, you must clean your teeth—to neutralize the acids that cause decay.

Squibb's Dental Cream can do this for you because it contains more than 50 per cent of Squibb's Milk of Magnesia—an amount ample to reach into all those tiny pits and crevices on your teeth which are inaccessible to any tooth-brush. There it remains, neutralizing destructive acids and safeguarding your health and vigor.

Squibb's Dental Cream cleans thoroughly—relieves sensitive teeth and sore gums—contains no grit. Safe and pleasant to use.

EX-OFFICE BOY NEW HEAD OF E. A. WOODS CO.

At the annual stockholders meeting of the Edward A. Woods Company, general agent of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, held this morning, William M. Duff was elected president, and William J. Powell and Charles A. Woods, vice presidents.

Mr. Duff succeeds the late Edward A. Woods who died November 30. He has been associated with the agency since 1895 when he entered its employ as an office boy. He is one of the Equitable's largest producers and is a national figure in life insurance circles. He has served as treasurer and president of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters' Association and is now a member of its executive committee.

STARTED AS CLERK

William J. Powell came with the organization in 1900 as a clerk, advancing to the office of treasurer, which position he will continue to hold. He is one of the Equitable's annual million dollar producers.

Attorney Charles A. Woods has been general counsel of the agency since 1893. He is regarded as a national authority on tax and insurance laws.

Following the agency's practice of rotating directorships, by which the office is passed among the veteran members of the organization, the following were elected directors for the year 1928: H. K. Beegle, E. E. Johnson, N. S. Wooldridge, W. E. Graham, Miss A. B. Concannon and John Wright, all of Pittsburgh; C. M. Hooker, Bradford, Pa.; L. A. Spencer, Youngstown, O.; M. J. Donnelly, New Castle, Pa.; O. P. Powell, Uniontown, Pa.; T. P. Williams, Corry, Pa.; F. G. Mardis, Johnstown, Pa.

Mr. Duff announced that in accordance with a plan devised by the late Edward A. Woods, the company would eventually be controlled and operated by those interested in its continued success and prosperity. Pursuant to this intention, certain stock in the company was left by Mr. Woods for distribution to his associates, details of which will be announced shortly.

$11,000,000 TERMINAL PLANNED

A rail and river terminal to cost $11,000,000 is to be constructed in the North Side flood district east of Federal street, where the city is planning to raise more than a score of streets and alleys above the highest known water mark. The project is planned by the Point Improvement Company, headed by F. F. Nicola, in co-operation with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company.

Council has been asked by E. C. Brainerd, representing the company, to vacate two streets in the district in order to permit the construction of the warehouses planned. The streets are Corry, between General Robinson, and Hypolite, between Scotland and Cremo.

OWN ABUTTING LAND

Mr. Brainerd, asking that the streets be vacated without charge to the company, pointed out that the improvement would benefit the district and the entire city. He said that there would be an immediate expenditure of $8,000,000 for terminal facilities and that the total cost of the project would be $11,000,000. The land company and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, he said, owns all abutting property.

The street area proposed for vacation totals 41,480 square feet and is valued at $3.50 a foot, a total of $145,180. Council held the case in abeyance, awaiting a detailed written report on the company's plans. In the past the policy has been to require some payment for vacated streets.

"Tremendous Allure in lovely smooth skin"

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER

"Few people can resist smooth, exquisite skin. There's a tremendous allure in lovely skin—'Studio Skin,' we call it—that skin of rare, lovely smoothness which defies the cruel, blazing lights of the close-up. Such a skin can't be faked even with the cleverest make-up. It is one of the greatest holds a star has on her public."

EVERY star in Hollywood knows this—youthful velvety skin means more to them even than it does to other women—it means their whole life, their career!

Nine out of every ten stars use Lux Toilet Soap. It cares for their skin the true French way. Lux Toilet Soap is made by the very method France developed for her finest toilet soaps.

All the great film companies have made Lux Toilet Soap the "official" soap provided for their studio dressing rooms. You, too, will delight in the instant caressing lather. Get some Lux Toilet Soap today—enjoy the caressing fragrant lather you loved in French soaps, but until now could only get at 50c or $1.00 a cake! Now it's just 10c wherever soap is sold. Lever Bros. MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

THERE ISN'T ANY SANTA CLAUS!

EVERYBODY'S looking for Santa Claus, these days. Everybody's looking for miracles and wonders and magic gold! For that doesn't exist!

Everybody is trying to work out some kind of marriage, which will offer all the joys and perquisites and honors of matrimony, without any of its trials and burdens and responsibilities. Oh sweet dream!

HELEN ROWLAND

Every woman is fondly hoping to find beauty in boxes and bottles and clay-packs, and every man has the illusion that he can, somehow, attain eternal youth via gland treatments and golf and flirtations with flappers.

* * *

Every college-graduate is looking for a nice fat job, whereby he can make a million by pressing a button at the side of his desk.

Every girl is looking for that ideal combination of Romeo and fairy-godfather—who will give her kisses and thrills and imported cars and diamond wrist-watches; who will take her out for glorious times—and at the same time take her seriously.

* * *

Every woman is looking for that plu-perfect husband who will fill her life, satisfy her emotions, supply her needs, and yet leave her free to work out her "career"—and never expect her to sew on a button.

* * *

Everybody naively believes all the glowing advertisements that offer a liberal education in one book, culture in a five-foot shelf, and all the social graces in a set of six rules.

* * *

Every business man is looking for "easy money"—the miraculous "trick" of making a fortune without working for it; a nice, jolly little get-rich-quick scheme!

Nobody is satisfied with anything less than platinum and all-silk and over-stuffed upholstery and pate-de-fois-gras and soul kisses.

Yet nobody wants to PAY THE PRICE!

We all want success and happiness and joy handed to us on a silver platter. We all want to eat our cake in bed and still not get the crumbs down the sheets!

* * *

And we call ourselves SOPHISTICATED! And laugh at the foolish old birds who chopped the wood, saved the pennies, walked to church, cut their own hair and were true to their own wives.

We are all looking for Santa Claus. But, shush! Here's a secret,

* * *

I hate to break your heart, but—there ISN'T any Santa Claus!

Redskins of Old Wiser Than Whites—Fay King

By FAY KING

MANY a modern American has chuckled over the shrewd bargains the early settlers made with the poor ignorant Indian savages they found here.

They traded trinkets and rum for valuable pelts and priceless land.

The Indian, fascinated by the worthless glimmer of a cheap looking glass, handed over furs he had hunted weeks for and cured for days. For "firewater" they gave the peace of the wigwam and the honor of their tribe.

But it didn't take some of the more intelligent savages long to see what ruin was being brought upon them by this "firewater" and many chiefs tabooed it.

They began to see in these things the evidences of an enemy and not a friend!

Many modern whiteskins are far more foolish than the poor Redskins ever were. For, educated and wise, the white man still hands over as great a value as the Indian did for as worthless a trade.

He works hard for his money, and good jobs and good money are hard to get. He denies himself the home comforts that this money could buy for himself and dear ones, and trades it to much the same shrewd enemy for the same worthless "firewater."

From "friendly" hands he accepts glasses of booze and often gives information when his tongue is loosened that will rob him of as much, comparatively, as the Indians were outsmarted of.

Many deaths are recorded lately from alcoholic poisoning. It seems to me very sad, indeed, that at this late date the white man is trading good money AND his OWN skin for worse "firewater" than did the Indian.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

by Royal S. Copeland M.D.
U.S. Senator From New York

Correct Eating Tends to Give Longer Life

IT is not a good thing to permit chronic dyspepsia to persist. Repeated and particularly daily attacks of indigestion are bad things. They keep the stomach tissues congested, perhaps bordering on inflammation. They prepare the way for ulcer of the stomach, possibly something worse.

DR. COPELAND

More than anything else indigestion is due to faulty personal habits. When once you come to believe that ill health is really a fault, or due to a fault, it won't be passed over so kindly and sympathetically.

Students who won't study are not pitied because they fail in school. Men who get drunk are not sympathized with over their pitiful state. In both instances we feel that it is the fault of the individual that he is in trouble.

We are given to feeling sorry for sick folks and, of course, it is natural and right to take this attitude. But we wouldn't feel quite so sorry if we became convinced that the given illness is due to the wilful neglect of the victim.

Almost invariably indigestion is due to wrong eating. Eating too much of the right thing, or eating the wrong thing, or eating too frequently, or not eating enough—there are plenty of causes for indigestion. Each cause you see relates to an improper eating practice.

It is a common thing to rush to the caster-oil bottle or to take a big dose of salts. The idea is that the indigestion will be cured by overcoming the constipation, the theory being that the state of the bowels is the cause of the trouble.

The difficulty about this is, that the constipation is not the cause of indigestion. On the contrary, it is the effect. It is merely one of the symptoms.

When I started this article I had intended to discuss ulcer of the stomach. What I have said will apply to that serious disturbance. You cannot get ucler in a perfectly healthy stomach. You cannot have a perfectly healthy stomach if it is constantly disturbed by attacks of indigestion.

Well nourished people who get an abundance of fresh air, sunlight and exercise, who sleep plenty and keep happy, will never have stomach ulcers. They cannot be well nourished if they have indigestion all the time, so we get back to the necessity for right eating habits.

The greatest fault of Americans is that they eat too much. That must be stopped if we are not to deteriorate as a race. Temperance in eating should be the first rule.

There can be no expectation of good health unless you drink an abundance of water. Even here you need to exercise care. It must not be an excessively hard water. There can be found soft, pure water which will do you good.

Take heed of your stomach and its highest needs. This precaution will add years to your life.

What's the Answer?

1. In what part of what continent is open country referred to as the "veldt"?
2. During whose reign did Shakespeare write "Venus and Adonis"?
3. What woman caused Joseph to be cast into prison?
4. Why are the edge of gold and silver coins milled?
5. Who wrote "Romola"?
6. Who was the last Emperor of Russia?
7. What was the date of Paul Revere's ride?
8. What is the title of a long poem by Tennyson written in memory of a friend?
9. From what island in the West Indies does asphalt come?
10. Who composed "The Unfinished Symphony"?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. The Rothschild family was enriched by the battle of Waterloo. Nathan Rothschild received exclusive news of Napoleon's defeat and bought up all the securities he could at panic prices, thereby amassing a huge fortune.
2. Louis IX was widely known as Saint Louis.
3. Samoa is in the Pacific Ocean.
4. Thomas Jefferson professed no religion.
5. A. R. Wallace formulated a theory of evolution at the same time as Darwin, yet independently.
6. Lord Kitchener embarked on a secret mission for the British government during the World War, and the cruiser bearing him was sunk by a torpedo.
7. Cognac is distilled from wine.
8. The word "Quiz" originated in Ireland.
9. Pall Mall is a street leading from St. James street to Trafalgar Square in London.
10. Catherine de Medici is generally assumed to have instigated the massacre of St. Bartholomew. It took place in Paris.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Friday, January 20

Blight not what's near through aiming at the far.—EURIPIDES.

CONFLICTING testimonies dominate the affairs of this day, with a tendency toward ambition and initiative, but in many ways this spirit of enterprise may be misdirected. While Jupiter assists to expansive views, Mars may direct to error by precipitancy and impulse. With calmness things may flourish, but be more than careful in the placing of money. Make changes cautiously.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of opportunity and enterprise which they may improve by sagacity and cool judgment rather than by indulging a tendency to rush and impetuous deeds. While there may be avenues for gain and progress yet there are hazardous financial conditions.

A child born on this day should be enterprising and ambitious, with many talents for success, yet self-indulgence and impetuosity may be defeating factors, unless it be trained in wise and cool methods.

Tell Them How You Lost Fat

This is to people who have lost fat in the modern scientific way. And who have gained new beauty, new health and vitality by it. You are everywhere. Tell others the facts, as someone probably told you.

Some two decades ago, scientific men discovered a cause of excess fat. They learned why some are thin and some are fat, regardless of food and exercise. They found a way to fight that cause by supplying the body some elements required in nutrition.

Then came Marmola prescription tablets embodying that new method. They have now been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. You can see the results wherever you look. Slenderness prevails. All ideas of beauty, all styles in dress, are based on slender figures.

Users of Marmola are not forced to abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. They simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. And new health and vitality comes with that reduction—in an amazing way.

The formula of Marmola comes in every box. Also the reasons for results. Thus you may know just why the good comes, and have no fear of harm.

People who are over-fat should start Marmola now. Order a box—before you forget. Learn all the facts about it, then watch results. When you gain your desires, tell your friends how to gain them. Don't wait any longer.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

HOLD AMITY MEET WON'T DEFINE INTERVENTION

STOCK MARKET SHOWS QUIET STRENGTH

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP.)—Quiet strength characterized today's stock market. The abundance of money available on call at 3½ per cent, after a renewal rate of 4, tended to allay uneasiness over the credit situation, although many traders showed a disposition to keep out of the market, pending publication of the weekly federal reserve report on brokers' loans after the close.

There was little in the day's business and financial news to influence the price movement. Publication of the 1927 report of the U. S. Cast Iron Pipe Company, showing $21.11 a share as against $25.08 the year before, apparently had been anticipated as the stock showed little change. Montgomery Ward sold down 1¼ points to 118 on the declaration of a $1 extra, but quickly made up the loss. Wall street had heard stories of a larger distribution.

Despite the possibility of a United State Senate investigation of super power projects and public utility financing, the power and light stocks continued in brisk demand. Montana Power, Federal Light and Traction and Electric Power and Light were the leaders in that group. Chrysler ran up two points and Hupp was again active on the up side, but the other motors showed little change.

Some sharp gains were recorded by ordinarily inactive specialties which figure only in odd lot trading. Southern Railway, Mobile and Ohio certificates added nearly 20 points to their 15-point gain of yesterday by touching 149½. Hanna first preferred jumped 8 points and American Metals preferred 4.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Engineering Earned $1.15.

The United Engineering and Foundry Company reports for year ended October 31 net income of $1,557,975 after federal taxes. This is equal to $1.15 a share on the 416,115 common shares issued, compared with $1,625,281 in 1926 or $3.67 on the same share basis.

Cities Service Earnings.

Cities Service Company reports for 12 months to December 31, 1927, net profit of $29,412,851 after interest and discount on debentures, but before reserves, against $21,804,272, or 20.62 per cent, in 1926.

Seminole Oil Production.

The Seminole area for 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. Wednesday produced 336,712 barrels from 1,077 wells, compared with 353,196 barrels from 1,074 wells Tuesday, and a peak of 327,400 barrels July 30, 1927.

Belgium Bank Rate Raised.

The Bank of Belgium has advanced its discount rate to 5 per cent from 4½ per cent.

French Rate Cut to 3½ Per Cent.

The Bank of France has reduced the discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent. The 4 per cent rate had been in effect since December 29, 1927, when it was reduced from 5 per cent, which had been effective since April 14, 1917.

Du Pont-Steel Report Ready.

Washington reports say Federal Trade Commission report on the relationship between United States Steel Corporation, General Motors and E. I. Du Pont De Nemours is nearing completion and is expected by March 1.

National Surety Earnings Up.

National Surety Company reports for year ended December 31, 1927, net income of $3,031,702 after charges and taxes, equal to $20.34 a share on 150,000 shares issued, against $2,530,414 or $25.99 a share on 100,000 shares in 1926.

Chatt-Peabody Company.

Earnings of between $4 and $5 a share for the year 1927 will be shown on Chatt-Peabody common, against $6.51 a share actually earned in 1926, according to one of the directors.

Cement Output Increased.

Portland cement production in 1927 increased over 4 per cent and shipments increased more than 5 per cent over 1926, Bureau of Mines reports. Production in December increased nearly 12 per cent, shipments decreased nearly 4 per cent and stocks at mills increased 6 per cent compared with December, 1926.

Kinney Income Gains.

Preliminary report of G. R. Kinney Company, Inc., and subsidiaries for year ended December 31, 1927, shows net income of $892,470 after interest, federal taxes, etc., equivalent after 5 per cent preferred dividends, to $4.19 a share earned on 80,000 shares of no par common stock. This compares with $577,931 or $2.38 a share in 1926.

Steel Meeting January 31.

Directors of United States Steel meet January 31 to pass on the report of the quarter ended December 31 and declare dividends. The Street looks for smaller earnings than the $41,319,009 reported in the third quarter of 1927, no change in the dividend and no developments in connection with a reported stock dividend.

Copper, Lead and Zinc Output.

Bureau of Mines reports mine production of copper, lead and zinc in the United States in 1927, compared with 1926, in terms of the recovered and recoverable metal content, in short tons as follows: Copper, 834,109 against 842,495; lead, 664,252 against 652,281, and zinc, 715,390 against 574,561.

Soft Metal Sales Lower.

The tonnage of non-ferrous metals sold during the last week was below the average. Except for New York lead, prices were easier on all of the major metals, Engineering and Mining Journal reports. Platinum has been fairly active and the price has been advanced from $72 per ounce to $85. Quick silver has declined several dollars a flask, due to selling pressure in Europe. Important primary producers of copper held out for 14.12½ cents a pound, delivered in the East, but no sales went through at this price.

December Structural Orders.

Orders for fabricated structural steel in December amounted to 295,163 tons. The month's booking represented a rate of 75 per cent of capacity, against 67 per cent in November and 71 per cent in December, 1926.

Cast Iron Pipe Earnings Drop.

United States Cast Iron Pipe and Foundry Company reports for year ended December 31 consolidated net income of $3,372,574 after interest and depreciation, equal after preferred dividends to $21.11 a share on 129,969 common shares, as compared with $3,949,342 or $25.08 a share in 1926.

Bankers' Club Meets Tonight.

Members of the Bankers' Club of Pittsburgh will hold their annual meeting tonight at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. A large attendance has engaged seats at the dinner. Matthew Scott Sloan, president of the Brooklyn Edison Company, will address the meeting. Reports will be presented and the annual election will be held. H. S. Hershberger, president of the West End Savings and Trust Company, is president of the club, and the chairman of the committee of arrangements is W. H. Fawcett, assistant cashier of the First National Bank at Pittsburgh.

La Follette's Gesture.

Washington says today that some pessimism was engendered by the La Follette resolution calling upon the Federal Reserve Board to restrict further expansion of loans for speculation purposes. This is considered a political gesture for home consumption, but is more or less impossible to carry out. It used to be assumed that this radical believed Wall Street was getting credit at the expense of the farmer, when, as a matter of fact, the farmer is not suffering from lack of credit and money has gone into Wall Street loans for the very proper reason that it had no other outlet and business demand could not utilize the credit offered. A report was current that Secretary Mellon might issue a statement today setting forth the conditions surrounding the loan situation.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Cotton prices advanced 2 to 7 points at the opening today on overnight buying orders brought in by the rally late yesterday, March selling up to 18.80c, or about 10 points net higher. This bulge met increased offerings, partly from the south, and the market eased back to about yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first hour.

Liverpool did not fully meet yesterday's local advance and was reported a seller here in early trading.

Private cables reported calling and continental buying supplied by local and London liquidation in Liverpool and that the cloth turnover was disappointing.

The market remained quiet later in the morning. The setbacks, however, seemed to bring in buying from one source or another which included some bought for Liverpool account and prices held generally steady, although bulges were not fully maintained. At midday the market was quiet at net advances of about 2 to 6 points on the active months.

U. S. TO BLOCK ACTION OVER NICARAGUA

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

HAVANA, Jan. 19.—The Sixth Pan-American Congress split up today into committees to start the real work of the conference.

The fanfare of trumpets, the polite assurances of regard, the flag-raising, the diplomatic speeches—all these are ended. From now on for several weeks the representatives of the 21 American nations are to battle it out in committee rooms, in business clothes instead of the traditional frock coat of statecraft.

The most important of the committees are those dealing with the codification of international law and the future of the Pan-American Union. The law committee, to which Ex-Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes assigned himself as chairman of the American delegation, will deal with interpretations of international law, including what constitutes intervention.

The Pan-American Union committee will deal with the question of making the union something besides an international academic debating society. Several of the smaller countries are insisting that the union be given arbitrative powers of sufficient strength and scope to deal with such questions as the present situation in Nicaragua.

The position of the United States delegation is opposed to both propositions. Washington does not want this conference to write a definition of intervention that might be embarrassing in the future. The American delegation takes the position that the presence of American marines in Nicaragua at this time does not constitute "intervention," because the marines are there at the express invitation of the Nicaraguan government.

Neither does the American delegation want the Pan-American Union granted wide discretionary powers to deal with questions that are considered in whole or in part political. The American delegates are not by any means overlooking the fact that of the 21 nations that comprise the union, 20 are Spanish speaking and of Spanish origin. Only one is English speaking and of Anglo-Saxon origin and that is the United States.

Enrique Aloya Herrera of Colombia, was elected chairman of the Pan-American union committee, after Charles Evans Hughes and Honorio Pueyrredon of Argentina had both declined. Mr. Hughes was nominated by an Uruguayan delegate, but he explained in a graceful speech that his duties as chairman of the United States delegation would prevent him from accepting.

Gustavo Guerrero, foreign minister of Salvador, was elected chairman of the committee on international law, which would probably deal with the Nicaraguan issue if it were brought before the meeting. This committee also will deal with the jurists commission.

Minister Guerrero was nominated by a Cuban delegate, and the nomination was second by Hughes. Paul Fernandez of Brazil was elected vice chairman. The elections reflected the desire of the United States to remove any doubts about domination by Washington, for Hughes declined to accept the chairmanship of two of the most important committees.

In these committees for the next several weeks, the real battle of the sixth Pan-American conference will be fought.

The committee sessions are to be theoretically open to the press of the western hemisphere. Actually it is probable that the sessions dealing with the so-called "delicate" questions will be just as secret as they always have been. The request of any one delegate will be sufficient to transform a public session into a private one, and there are few people in Havana who believe that the United States delegation is going to discuss the question of what constitutes intervention before the whole world. Mr. Hughes so far has declined to discuss it publicly or privately for American newspapers.

The other committees, which began functioning today, deal with less controversial matters, such as international communications, health regulations, divorce and marriage laws, and commercial problems. While these committees may develop strong differences of opinion, it is unlikely that they will create anything to jar international sensibilities.

The United States position, that the Pan-American Union should be kept out of the field of international politics, has some strong support. Several of the strongest and most influential of South American nations thoroughly agree with that position. Among them are the Argentine, Brazil, Chile, Peru and Bolivia. The Chileans and Peruvians cannot forget the Tacna-Arica boundary dispute, which the United States unsuccessfully endeavored to arbitrate.

TROUBLED WITH HARD PIMPLES

Festered and Scaled Over. Nose Very Itchy. Cuticura Healed.

"I was troubled with pimples on my nose for some time. They were hard and red, and some were large and some small. The pimples festered and scaled over, and my nose was very red and itchy all the time.

"I used other remedies but not with success. Then I sent for the Cuticura samples and there was an improvement after using them. I purchased a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in three weeks I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss C. Andrews, 2446 East St., N. S. Pittsburgh, Pa., July 20, 1927.

Keep your skin clear and your pores active by daily use of Cuticura Soap. Heal irritations and rashes with Cuticura Ointment.

Growing Children

sometimes require a tonic as do their elders

The physical welfare of the child is being given more attention by school authorities. Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to a nervousness and run-down condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red blood cells.

GIVE your child the right chance to develop, and you will not regret it in later years.

Many children become under-nourished due to lack of appetite. Keep the appetite keen. Food nourishes the body and makes it grow.

Also watch Nature's warning for changes in the system. Skin troubles—pimples, boils and that sallow complexion—all foretell a body weakness.

In such cases, S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It improves the appetite; helps Nature build rich, red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years, S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

Children like S.S.S. It is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

GANG ATTACKS AND BEATS POLICEMAN

Attacked by a gang of youths whom he had ordered to move on, Patrolman Lawrence Brown of the North Side Station early today was beaten on the face and body and almost stripped of his uniform. The attack occurred in North Canal street. The gang escaped. An hour later Patrolman Brown recognized three of the youths riding in a taxicab and, with the aid of another officer, arrested them.

The prisoners are Harold Beamer, 25, of 1920 St. Ives street, a cab driver; John Brishey, 26, of 927 Progress street, and Harry Gauss, 26, of 1012 East Ohio street. They are being held in the North Side station on suspicious person charges.

When the gang first attacked Patrolman Brown he drew his gun and arrested two of the assailants, but as he was taking them to the patrol box he was rushed a second time by the gang and his two prisoners taken from him.

Before Magistrate E. M. Hough today Brishey and Gauss were fined $25, with the alternative of 30 days in jail, and Beamer was assessed $10.

JERMYN OUT FOR REED

Mayor Edmund B. Jermyn, of Scranton, will support Senator David A. Reed for re-election, he stated while on a visit here yesterday. The Mayor predicted that the warring Republican factions of his home county, Lackawanna, will be united behind Reed.

The announcement of Mayor Jermyn was received with undisguised relief by state leaders who are hoping to send Reed into the primary election with the support of the united Republican organization. In the primary last year, Jermyn and his political associates in Lackawanna administered a crushing defeat to the state organization, which was supporting the candidates of Judge George W. Maxey, leader of the rival faction there.

With the county organization supporting Reed, Gifford Pinchot is the only candidate who could stir up real trouble in Lackawanna, in the opinion of party leaders.

TWO HELD IN DRY RAID

A well-equipped East End rectifying plant was raided by prohibition agents early today and a woman and a man were caught in the law's net.

In a two-story brick building at [illegible] Liberty avenue, agents seized two barrels of whisky chips, two barrels of whisky, 50 gallons of alcohol, an ageing machine and arrested Laughlin McKinnon, 25, and Anna Swelbar, 25.

Whisky chips, pre-prohibition experts explained, are chipped from barrels in which whisky has aged and soaked with alcohol to produce somewhat of an unknown quantity.

ATTORNEY NOT READY, SUIT THROWN OUT

Cadet Life at Brooks Field as "Lindy" Lived It

Harrowing Moments When Student Is Given the Stick To Manage Alone

At Brooks Field at last, Lindbergh, as he told yesterday in the Sun-Telegraph, was a member of a class of 104 men eager to pilot planes for the Army. They were "filled up" with disquieting tales by the men moving on the Kelly Field, did chores and received training in cadet etiquette. Then "Lindy" was assigned to an instructor and taken up. Proving his knowledge, he was soon ordered to go it alone and practice landing. His chief difficulty at first was in learning to handle the stick with his right hand, his previous experience having been with "left-hand" planes of the war-time type.

"Washouts;" Not for "Slim"

CHAPTER XII.

FOR a moment after the pilot turns over the controls the plane keeps on a straight course, then the nose begins to lose its normal position on the horizon, a wing dips down, and a blast of air rushes in from one side of the cockpit. Carefully learned instructions are forgotten and the controls serve only to move the earth still farther from its proper position. All this time the instructor's hands are gripping the top of the cowling. The cadet realizes that it is up to himself in some manner to level the plane out into a normal flying position once more, not realizing for an instant that his instructor can operate the stick nearly as well with his knee as with his hand and that he has probably already saved the plane from falling into a spin several times.

After splashing around the sky in this manner for several minutes the pilot brings his ship back into position and, pulling up into a stall with a throttled motor, roars back his instructions at a cadet who is much more absorbed in watching the approaching ground below than in listening to his instructor.

When 45 minutes have passed the ship is flown back and landed near the stage house where the next cadet, with helmet and goggles adjusted, is waiting for his turn in the air. The first climbs out and takes his place on the bench surrounding the base of the building and the plane is off to repeat the performance over again.

At the end of 10 hours, if the cadet is not capable of soloing he is in grave danger of being washed out as a flier. However, if the instructor believes that a little more time will be sufficient and that the student has shown signs of eventually becoming a military pilot, the dual instruction may be continued for three or four more hours.

Difficult Check Hop

At Brooks when all instructors came to the conclusion that one of his students would never master the art of flying quickly enough to keep up with the standard of the class, he turned the cadet over for a check hop with the stage commander, who was always a pilot of long experience. Few cadets ever passed this check; if the stage commander believed that any cadet had been misjudged, however, he had authority to place him back on flying status for further instruction. If the commander concurred with the decision of the instructor, he recommended the cadet for a final check on headquarters stage with the chief check pilot. The decision of this officer was final and to be returned to flying after a flight with him was an occurrence seldom recorded in cadet history. After failing his final check flight a cadet was ordered to appear before a board of officers known as the "Benzine Board." If he was reported for misconduct or academic deficiency there was still some slight hope of beating the board, but if it was for inability to fly, the decision of "washout" was a foregone conclusion.

The washing out for our class commenced in earnest with the approach of solo flights and the returns from our examinations. I was fortunate enough to have passed them and my previous flying experience kept me from worrying on any account during the first part of our training.

There was no disgrace in washing out. It simply meant in the majority of cases that the cadet was not especially adapted to flying and he was sent back to his point of enlistment with an honorable discharge and the advice to take up some other form of occupation.

Class Cut by "Washout"

With the washing out process our barracks became less congested. It was not unusual to see the fellows on both sides pack up and cheerfully depart for destinations in different corners of the United States. After a few weeks there would be one bunk standing where eight had been—this in some part of the barracks on which the "Benzine Board" had fallen hardest. In another case an entire bay was washed out and left entirely vacant. We never knew who would be next to go, and we could only continue to plug along as best we could with our flying and study a little harder on our ground school work while we waited for the almost weekly list of washouts to be published on our bulletin board. We were in the full swing of cadet life and under the constant apprehension which accompanies it.

Along with our trials and worries went the fascination of flying together with the priceless goal before us of graduation with an Air Service commission. The wings of the service would be for those of us who were able to survive the rigid training and discipline of a year in the United States Army flying schools.

Always there was something new to look forward to. The start of actual flying, the first solo, learning various stunts and maneuvers, transition from Jennies to faster and quicker ships and finally our transfer to Kelly Field, the almamater of Army fliers.

The Army Air Service was an exacting instructor. There was no favoritism shown and no amount of politics could keep a cadet from being washed out if he fell down in flying. As a result, only a small per cent of those entering Brooks ever graduate from Kelly. In our class of 104, 33 finished their private training and only 18 of us received our wings. This appears on the surface to be an unusually low number, but as a result of the rigid requirements and careful instruction, our Air Corps schools rank among the best in the world today. They have an extremely low fatality list, not one man in our class being seriously injured.

Probably the most exciting period in our flying training was when the soloing began. The instructor would climb out of his cockpit, tie a white handkerchief on the rudder as a danger signal, indicating that the ship was usually out of control, and signal his student to take off. In some cases the plane would take off nicely, circle the field and make a comparatively good landing. In others the landing would amount to a series of bounces, resulting in the necessity of a second or third attempt before the wheels would hold contact with the ground more than a fraction of a second at a time. In one particular instance, after several futile attempts to get down, the cadet began circling around overhead. His apparent idea was to clinch the chances of landing on his next attempt by waiting until the gasoline ran out. His instructor was out in the field trying to flag him down without the slightest success, and for half an hour we watched the ship intently for the first signs of a lowering gas supply, hoping that the fuel would not hold out much longer, as the morning flying period was nearly over and we were all anxious to see him land. After half an hour, however, he apparently regained enough courage and determination to make a last attempt at a landing, which turned out much more successfully than the others.

(Thrilling stunts in the air for movies and boyish pranks in the barracks at Brooks Field, as described by Col. Lindbergh, make an absorbing chapter of "We" to be published tomorrow.)

STATE MONEY LENDERS -:- IN ANNUAL SESSION

A. H. THALE H. W. SMITH C. W. LOUPE

Members of the Pennsylvania Industrial Lenders' Association in annual session at the William Penn Hotel last night, heard Pittsburgh officials paint a rosy picture of money conditions for the coming year. C. W. Loupe is president of the local organization; H. W. Smith is vice president, and A. M. Thale, secretary and treasurer.

ALICE FOREMAN, HELEN LYONS, VESTA KELVINGTON AND ALICE BLACK

Money was not the sole topic of the evening, however, for a dance and entertainment followed the banquet and business discussions. Alice Foreman, Helen Lyons and Alice Black, of Pittsburgh, and Vesta Kelvington, of Beaver Falls, seem to indicate that the social side of the affair was a considerable sucess.

THRICE DELAYED SUIT DROPPED BY JUDGE

Judge James B. Drew proceeded against lawyers to compel them to try their cases when called into action today.

He directed a non-suit be entered in the case of Vetter J. Haines against William J. Johnson, the latter an O'Hara township constable who had been sued for $10,000 damages, because of injuries alleged to have been sustained by Haines in an automobile accident March 2, 1924.

Attorney W. D. Grimes, representing Haines, was told by the court that his case had been called three times and that "you are not ready to try this case." He directed Coleman Harrison, representing Johnson, to draw up an order for a non suit and Grimes had nothing to say. Grimes claims that he has not been able to get in touch with Haines, who, it is said, is in Chicago.

LOSES SPECTACLES, BUT GETS HIS MAN

Prohibition Agent Harry Kuhns is without his spectacles today as the result of an arrest he made late yesterday. Kuhns reported that when he tried to arrest Tony Riggo, 35, and Paul Southich, 38, for transporting five gallons of moonshine through Undercliffe the men attacked him and smashed his glasses. Other agents helped Kuhns effect the arrests.

Scout Speaker

DR. GEORGE J. FISHER

Dr. George J. Fisher, deputy chief Scout executive of the national body, will speak to the Council West, Boy Scouts of America, as its first annual banquet Tuesday in Kaufmann's auditorium. Dr. Fisher, an eminent physician, has been identified with physical training since the World War.

SHYLOCK LENDERS FACE WAR HERE

Rid the country of small unscrupulous money lenders.

This was the expression of officials of the Pennsylvania Industrial Lenders' Association at the yearly regional meeting and banquet held last night at the William Penn Hotel. More than 200 members of the association, many of them women, attended both the meeting and banquet.

The meeting held prior to the banquet was addressed by A. V. Snell, secretary of the Pittsburgh chamber of Commerce; K. S. Fry, manager of the Community Finance Service, Inc., and E. O. Schultz, manager of the Household Finance Corporation of Pittsburgh. All speakers stressed the importance of money lenders and concurred with the association to exterminate all unscrupulous lenders who disregard the state law pertaining to loans. Brief addresses were made at the banquet by J. G. Bachofer, Reading, chairman of the association; William Rainey Bennett of Red Path and J. A. Thompson, humorist, of Pittsburgh.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: Mr. Bachofer, chairman; A. V. Hart and V. D. Moss, vice chairmen, and Walter S. Herron, secretary, and Joseph F. Devine, treasurer, all of Philadelphia. Local officers of the organization are: C. W. Loupe, president; H. W. Smith, vice president, and A. H. Thale, secretary and treasurer.

Will Is Groggy; Havana Music Does It

HAVANA, Cuba, Jan. 19.—We stood while 21 nations played their national anthems. The conference is already a standing and musical success. I have one suggestion to offer for International good will. That is have an International national anthem—it goes for everybody. When it is played, it's for all the Chink, the Limy, the Wop, the Zulu and even the Rotarians. Make it short and it will please every nation. Some of these anthems today were longer than their countries' records. I propose IrvingBerlin as its composer. When you have stood in the tropical sun for 21 airs you are about ready to vote for your nation to annex the other 20.

Yours, Groggy from Martial Music,

WILL ROGERS.

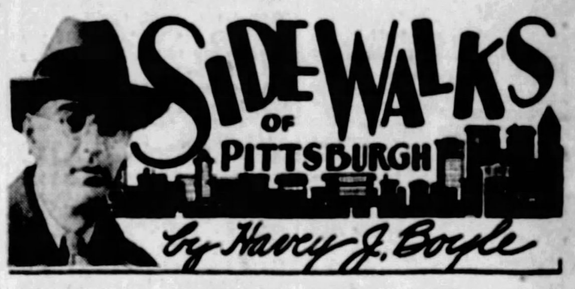
BRADLEY MINE HEAD'S HOME IS DYNAMITED

STEUBENVILLE, O., Jan. 19.—The home of Pearl Harkins, superintendent at the United States Coal Company's mine at Bradley, Jefferson county, was dynamited last night. Harkins, his wife and six small children, who were asleep, were uninjured, but the house was badly damaged. The coal company planned to start operations at the Bradley mine next Tuesday.



A MURDER trial was in progress this day in Criminal court. A Mexican was on trial, accused of having done away with a man some place near Brown's bridge. We stayed only a short time. Anyone planning a homicide having in view the principal role in a great court drama would have been considerably discouraged by the drab scene.

For one thing, the spectators in the court were an uninteresting

lot. Some of them were discourteous enough to fall asleep. In the whole gallery there was not one tear and no one was sitting on the edge of his or her chair. Even the defendant seemed only mildly interested. This was explained by the fact that he could understand little of what was going on.

WE had hoped that the man from the district attorney's office would show that passion portrayed so often on the stage, but the prosecution in this case seemed to have nothing personal against the defendant at all. In fact, a reporter who came in whispered to us that the prosecution would have settled for some small amount—something like 10 or 20 years, if the defendant had been courteous enough to plead guilty.

* * *

ON THE witness stand was a man who spoke broken English, if that. Now and then an interpreter would be called to straighten out the matter. His story could have been edited to about one-half, but space on that day in court was probably limitless, judging from the way the account ran into columns and columns. This witness was aiding the state. We had seen enough plays to harbor the hope that now and then the defense counsel would jump up, shake his fist at the bewildered witness and cry out: "I object—irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent," but the defense counsel here sat quiet.

"WHAT time will defense counsel go over and spit into the jury box cuspidor to show the boys he enjoys a little chew just like a regular fellow?" we asked our reporter friend. "That's a funny thing," said our reporter friend, "but this fellow doesn't chew." "There must be some mistake," we insisted. "No, I know him like a book!" "What book?" we asked, as we are interested in books. He didn't hear us.

We waited for a little while hoping, at least, that someone in the audience would do some of those things that we see on the stage—even a slight faint would have satisfied us—but nothing happened.

In fact, the whole affair was so dull that Bobby Burke and Frank Dodson, the detectives in the case, came over to our chair to suggest that Gooch needed steady work to be a really great catcher.

AT LAST there did come a little rift in the routine. Prosecution counsel suggested that it might be better for all hands concerned, providing it was agreeable to the court, if adjournment would be taken at 4 o'clock. The court suggested 4:30 o'clock.

Hoping against hope that this suggestion by the prosecution would give the defense counsel a chance to shake his fist at the district attorney and cry: "Bad sportsmanship," or whatever defense counsel usually shouts at the prosecution, we waited, but nothing happened.

It was all very unsatisfactory.

Lily Creates a Scene in The Lunch Room With Pat

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

LILLY LEXINGTON, spoiled daughter of the CYRUS LEXINGTONS, is engaged to marry STALEY DRUMMOND, a rich bachelor much older than herself. She is fond of him, but realizes she does not really love him the day after she accepts him, when she becomes instantly and violently infatuated with a taxicab driver whom she sees down town when she goes to meet her chum, SUE CAIN. Forgetting all about Sue, she jumps into his cab and he drives her home. She learns that his name is PAT FRANCE and that he owns his own cab in a company headed by his friend, ROY JETTERSON. He tells her that he is going to sell it to finance a piston ring that he has invented, and he and his cab vanish from the streets. Lily misses him terribly, and decides she cares too much for him to marry Staley Drummond. But Mrs. Lexington announces the engagement, and the date of the wedding is set for June tenth. Then, on May tenth, Mrs. Lexington hires a new chauffeur, and it is Pat France. Lily tells her mother how much she cares for Pat, and Mrs. Lexington humiliates him so that he leaves the house. Lily leaves with him, and the next day she marries him. Lily asked to clerk in the Frances' grocery, decides to leave Pat. They make up and she tries to make the best of her position. Lily tries to get her clothes from home. She is invited to a party at the Jetterson's home and sees Elizabeth Ertz. She quarrels with his mother, and they take a little flat by themselves. Lily refuses to get his breakfast. So he goes to a nearby lunchroom for it, and one morning, when he and Lily have quarreled because of the lack of clean clothes for him, she follows him to the little restaurant to make up. She finds him having breakfast with his old sweetheart, ELIZABETH ERTZ, a nurse. Elizabeth is just leaving when Lily begins to accuse Pat of infidelity to her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"I WON'T give him up anyway!" she made up her mind.

She was scarlet with her anger and jealousy when she pushed open the swinging door and rushed into the restaurant. The first thing she saw was the nurse, in her uniform, standing at the desk paying her bill. Her eyes were cast down, and her lashes made a shadow on her colorless cheeks. . . . Lily longed to slap her meek, good face.

She brushed past her without a word and walked up behind Pat. He turned quickly at the sound of her voice.

"So THIS is why you like to eat here!" she hissed at him. "So you can sit and chin with that roll of antiseptic gauze from the hospital. Well, believe me, she'll need a hospital if I catch her with you again in here!"

CHAPTER XXXII.

ELIZABETH ERTZ had not seen Lily come in.

And now, at the sound of her high and angry voice, she swung around from the cashier's desk where she was paying her bill and stared at her in astonishment.

The waitress, on her way in from the kitchen with Pat's plate of smoking wheat cakes, stopped dead still for an instant and then backed out again, through the swinging doors.

"You're in such a rush every morning that you can't even fix yourself a cup of coffee at home!" Lily rushed on. "But you have plenty of time to come down here and chew the fat with the Ertz—"

She waved her arm in the direction of the cashier's desk, and touched Elizabeth Ertz, who had come up and was standing close beside her now.

If she knew that anything was wrong—and she couldn't have failed to know it—her face did not show it. It was calm and sweet, and her voice was soft and spoke to Lily:

"Good morning! How nice to see you again—"

Then her voiced trailed off into silence as Lily gave her a look that was like a dagger, and turned her back squarely upon her.

She stood there for another minute, and then went quickly out of the restaurant, her rubber heels making no sound on the floor so that Lily did not know she was gone.

Not that she cared whether she was still there or not! She was so angry that she did not care who heard what she had to say to Pat. She didn't even know that the other people in the place had stopped eating to watch her and listen to her. . . . She was deaf and blind with fury.

"I should have known better than to marry a low-brow like you!" she stormed, and no fish-wife ever made more noise. "I might have known this would be the cheap, common sort of thing you'd do!"

Pat jumped up from his stool, flung a dollar bill on the shining white counter, and started for the door. "Good Lord, Lily," he said under his breath, "whatever you have to say to me, wait until we get outside—"

And in no time at all, they were outside in the street. On the corner, waiting for her street car, stood Elizabeth Ertz, her white uniform and shoes looking whiter than ever in the sunlight, and her blue hat pulled down over her eyes to protect them from the glare.

The sight of her standing there enraged Lily anew. "Look at her! Hanging around the neighborhood just because she knows you live here!" She choked up.

Pat shrugged his shoulders. "She's always lived around here, as far as I know," he began, but Lily cut him short.

"Well, then, you moved here so you could be where she is!" she blazed out at him, forgetting that Pat had had nothing to do with the choosing of the little flat.

Angry as he was by now, Pat had to laugh at that. "You talk like a cross baby, Lily," he said. "You aren't using your head. I told you I didn't care where we lived, so long as the rent wasn't too high. You and Sadye picked this place out."

They had reached the apartment building, and, to Lily's amazement, he followed her up the steep and narrow stairs to their own little suite.

He threw his hat down on the table in the middle of the untidy living room and faced her.

"Now, we may as well get a few things straightened out," he said grimly. "Because I'm never going to be mixed up in another scene like that one in the restaurant just now—understand?"

Lily glared at him, never moving a muscle or making a sound.

Pat sat down on the edge of the dusty, ash-strewn table, and the hands that he clasped over his knee shook. He was upset by the shameful scene as only a man ever is.

"You can't go on living with me unless you trust me," he said quietly. "And I'm not going to belittle myself by explaining to you how Elizabeth Ertz happened to be in that restaurant this morning. You'll have to take me on trust, knowing that I'm not the cheat you called me a while ago, or you and I may just as well call 'quits' right now."

Lily was silent.

"And I can't go on living with you this way," he added. "I've got to have a decent home and clean clothes and good, plain food, like I've always been used to. . . . I'm not satisfied with you as a wife. Now what do you think of that?"

It took Lily's breath away completely. "You're NOT?" she asked, scarcely believing her ears. "You're not satisfied with me?"

"No." He shook his head.

"Don't you love me?"

Pat nodded this time. "Yes, I love you," he said, in a quick, matter-of-fact way. "But there's more to this married life stuff than just being crazy about your girl, you know. You expect some comfort from her, and some service in return for the service and comfort you try to give her."

Lily frowned. "I don't know what you're talking about," she said. "I take care of this house—"

Pat's laugh broke in upon her words. "Yes, you do—NOT," he told her positively. "Look at this room—look at the breakfast table—take a look at the clothes closet. Buttons off my coat—a seam ripped in my gray vest—my ties all wrinkled."

"Well, why don't you take your things to a tailor?" his wife asked him. "Am I supposed to run around the streets, carrying your clothes and looking like a rag picker? I don't even know where a tailor is."

Pat scratched the back of his neck and raised one eyebrow. "You might learn to press a tie and sew a button on a garment yourself," he suggested. "It wouldn't hurt you, you know."

Lily's eyes narrowed until they were just gleaming slits under her black eyebrows. "For two cents," she said, "I'd walk out of this place and never walk back!"

She would have given anything, at that moment, to have had the courage to get up and walk out of the flat. But she didn't have it. She loved Pat too much to leave him—to the Ertz.

And when he got up from the table-edge and ran down the stairs with no kiss for her, no attempt to smooth things over, she stood thinking for a long time. "Well," she said aloud to the painted walls of the little flat, "it looks as if I'd have to brace up, doesn't it? If I want to keep my husband—"

She bundled up the dirty clothes and took them down to the janitress, Mrs. Garland, to be washed. She sewed the buttons on Pat's coat and his gray vest. She managed, somehow or other, to press his ties, although she scorched one or two of them.

She worked all day long, and finally boiled potatoes and fried a pound of lamb chops under Mrs. Garland's direction, for Pat's supper. The potatoes were like bullets and the chops were dry as tinder, but Pat said it was a wonderful meal.

And he kissed her thumb, where she had blistered it, and helped her with the dishes. Peace was restored to the tiny place. . . . but Lily kept wondering why he did not explain how he had happened to be having breakfast with the Ertz.

That day was the beginning of a long summer of drudgery for Lily Lexington France.

She learned to do her own washing and ironing, when Pat told her he couldn't afford to pay Mrs. Garland $4 for doing it every week.

She learned to press Pat's ties, although she never did them well.

She learned to air a bed before making it. She learned to rinse soiled dishes under the faucet before she put them into the dish water. She learned to cook after a fashion—not delicious dishes, but things that could be eaten.

Two or three nights a week Pat worked late at the garage or the little shop.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer — By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I'm on the VERGE of collAPSE at this point, no less, because I mean I've PRACticably had hysTERics all DAY, my dear, because simply EV'ryone I've MET has been all-of-a-DOOdah over this comPANionate MARriage which ARab and I are s'posed to be heavily inVOLVED in at this point—can you BEAR it, my dear? Well, ANYways, the FUNniest thing happened, my dear, because apparently ARab, with his usual RETicence, has been BRAGging about the situation to practicably EVery odd soul in this strange fraTERnity effect that he and Noisy belong to, so WHAT should transpire toDAY, my dear, but that I should SUDdenly receive a terribly FORmal sort of CALL from that IMbecile PHWHEN—you know, my dear—that odd youth from BROOKlyn who I sort of INfluenced to join their CROWD when everybody was RUSHing him? Well, ANYways, he was all hot and BOTHered about the situation because, like EV'rybody ELSE, my dear, he wants to believe the WORST and apparently he thinks I'm PERFectly SErious and am PRACticably as BADly off as MARried comPANionately to ARab at this point—can you BEAR it, my dear? So WHAT do you s'pose he sugGESted, my dear? Well, he said how about marrying HIM as a way of eSCAPE! HONestly, my dear, I was conVULSED! But, GOSH, my dear, I WISH I knew WHY these POISonous MEN have the FIXED IDEA that EV'ry girl they MEET is DYing to MARry them or something, my dear—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Love's Embers

Absorbing Sequel to "Revelations of a Wife"

By ADELE GARRISON

The Disturbing Query Arises, Does Eleanor Lincoln Head a High-class Band of Crooks?

I HAD hard work to conceal my mirth at the result of my mother-in-law's flight into the realms of imagination. Her theory that Eleanor Lincoln and the foreign-looking young man with the wolfhound were members of a gang of crooks was the height of absurdity, even though I was certain that the two were concealing a former acquaintanceship from the people they were meeting during their sojourn on the island.

That the young chatelaine of The Larches was ruthless, I believed. That she could be a bit unscrupulous if her interests demanded it I also could credit. But there was something in her face, her eyes and her carriage bespeaking a lofty pride in herself and her family which made the idea of crime in connection with her a most fantastic thing.

That there was not the slightest use in uttering such a belief to my mother-in-law, I well knew. Once she has conceived an idea and given it voice it is well nigh impossible to change it. Opposition of any sort only strengthens her belief in her own insight. There is only one possible way to modify her dictum. That is to agree with her. I have known her to reverse her decision when she happened to be angry, at the person acquiescing in her verdict.

"It is a queer coincidence that their names should be those of American Presidents," I agreed. "And their behavior is mysterious, to say the least. I wonder what is best to do. Shall I drop Miss Lincoln's acquaintance, do you think? It will be a bit difficult, for we already have exchanged calls, as you know. But—"

I hesitated and held my breath fearfully as I did so. If she agreed with me I should find myself in a most embarrassing position. Dicky had made an especial request that I do everything in my power to become better acquainted with Miss Lincoln, saying that he hoped to get her to pose for him for a series of illustrations for which he needed her type. Yet I knew my mother-in-law well enough to realize that I was jeopardizing my future association with Miss Lincoln far less by my request, in apparent acquiescence with her opinion, than by defending the girl.

Mother Graham raised her eyes to the ceiling, and left them in that lofty contemplation for a long minute. Then she said judicially:

"In my opinion, Margaret, that would be the most foolish thing you could do. The fact that this young woman has taken The Larches and lives in the style she does is a basis for the argument that no one knows of her identity and that the gang to which she belongs is composed of unusually shrewd people, perhaps even of well-born men and women who have taken this means of recuperating their fortunes."

She was so patently enjoying herself that, even if it would have changed her opinion, I do not believe I would have had the heart to gainsay her.

"By dropping her acquaintance," she went on, still in the manner of a judge upon the bench handing down a decision, "you not only may arouse her suspicion that you know something concerning her, and thus put her upon her guard, but you also lose an unparalleled opportunity to share her daily life and perhaps find out the secret of her organization. No, I should say by all means go on as you have done in every respect. But be careful never to leave Mary in her company unless you or Richard or that young Veritzen are also of the party."

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

RACE SUICIDE HERE? RECORD SAYS 'NO'

There is no race suicide in Pittsburgh, according to a statement made public today by Dr. R. G. Burns, head of the city Health Department.

Dr. Burns stated that 776 more babies were born here in 1927 than in 1926, while the infant mortality rate dropped from 82.7 to 71.9 per 1,000 living births.

In spite of the low death rate there was a great increase in violent deaths. During the year there were 824 violent deaths, excluding suicides, as compared with 691 in 1926.

Automobiles took a heavy toll here, Dr. Burns said. There were 209 deaths due to automobile accidents in 1927, an increase of 45 over the preceding year. Deaths from alcoholism increased from 95 to 107.

Diphtheria was the only disease to show a marked increase in the death rate, the increase being general over the United States. There were 116 deaths from this cause in the city in 1927 and only 59 in 1926.

Both pneumonia and heart disease, the greatest causes of death here, showed appreciable decreases. Pneumonia deaths decreased from 1,255 in 1926 to 1,180 in 1927. The death rate from heart disease decreased from 183.5 to 175.8. There were only 13 deaths from typhoid fever during the year, the lowest number in the city's history. Tuberculosis deaths dropped from 503 in 1926 to 488, and cancer deaths from 497 to 488.

Hypocritical Grid Heads Denounced

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 19.—(INS.)—Glenn Thistlethwaite, football coach at the University of Wisconsin, is "sick of hypocritical coaches who stress character building and good sportsmanship, and minimize victories."

He said so here last night in a speech at the annual father-and-son banquet.

"Winning football games is the first business of every coach," said Thistlethwaite. "Heads of winning Big Ten teams stress that point, but coaches of losing teams orate on the importance of character building and sportsmanship.

"Incidentally, this is my year to talk about character building. But I'm going to say that my freshman year as coach at Wisconsin was a failure."

NEW KAYO RECORD

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 19.—A long-distance record for a knock-out was compiled here Monday night. Kid Culberson was at home in St. Paul when he was reputed to have been knocked out by Buzz Griffith, local middleweight, here. Now the question is, who was Griffith's opponent? The promoter says he thought he was Culberson, but some of the fans say the victim was Battling McKnight of Minneapolis. Whoever he was, there is no doubt that he was knocked out.

American U. Bows, 34-29

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—A hard-fought and well-deserved victory reposed with the Duquesne University quintet of Pittsburgh here last night after Coach Chick Davies' gallant crew nosed out the American University, 34 to 29, in an extra-period contest.

Battling desperately against a foe that simply wouldn't give way an inch, the American University quintet found itself tied when the final whistle for the regular playing period blew, and it was the sturdy Benedict, the Duke's star guard, who deadlocked matters with a well-timed foul shot.

In the extra period, Stevens played a stellar role when he raced through the scrimmage to cage a field goal and place the visitors in the lead. The lineup:

Duquesne—34.		American U.—29.
Bromberg	F	Splaine
Koch	F	Scruggs
Lemon	C	J. Butterfield
Stephens	G	Kessler
Benedict	G	W. Butterfield

Substitutions—Vernon for Lemon, Loefner for Scruggs, Cooke for Loefner, Field goals—Schloss 2, Scruggs 4, J. Butterfield, Kessler, W. Butterfield, Koch 2, Lemon, Stephens 4, Benedict 3. Foul goals—Benedict, 10 out of 17; American U., 11 out of 19. Referee—Daly.

NORTHWESTERN TO MEET DARTMOUTH NEXT FALL

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—(INS.)—Final arrangements for the Northwestern University-Dartmouth football game in Chicago next November will be made today at a conference here between Harry Heneage, Dartmouth athletic supervisor, and K. L. Wilson, athletic director at Northwestern. It is understood that Heneage favors Soldier Field as the scene of the struggle instead of Dyche Stadium in Evanston. The game is scheduled for November 24.

BLACK GOLD DESTROYED

By Universal Service.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19.—Black Gold, the 7-year-old colt owned by Mrs. R. Hoots, broke his left front leg in the last furlong of the fifth race at the Fair Grounds here yesterday afternoon and was destroyed.

Black Gold returned to the races this fall after being retired to the stud shortly after his memorable Kentucky Derby victory of 1924. Up to the time of his accident the famous horse had not regained his old time form, but his trainer believed him to be about ready and expected great things of him in the near future.

In cold—rain—snow—always at his post

295 of New York's Honor Police say, "This kills exposure aches"

MORE dangerous to the policeman than the gunman and the gangster is his constant exposure to wet and cold.

While other people are scuttling to shelter, or snug in the shelter of their homes, the policeman has to stand and face the rain, the blizzard, the biting winds of winter.

Yet where do you find such splendid examples of physical fitness as on the police force? A policeman keeps in the pink of condition when other men would be down with rheumatism or the "flu."

How New York's finest treat muscular pain

We made a canvass of the Honor Police of New York City—the men who wear above their badges the colored stripe that tells of courageous and distinguished service—to find out what they use to overcome the effects of exposure.

295 whom we asked said, "We use Sloan's."

One of New York's Honor Police. 295 told us that Sloan's is their best defense against exposure

Everywhere people whose work exposes them to damp and cold or to muscular strain, swear by Sloan's Liniment. It saves them hours of suffering—days of lost time.

Read this statement from a policeman who has served on the Philadelphia police force for twenty-seven years: "As I have used a considerable quantity of Sloan's Liniment in the last few months and received almost instant relief, I think it my duty for the sake of humanity to recommend it to others. It gives me great pleasure to recommend Sloan's for all pains in the back and legs, as I do a lot of walking and am exposed to all kinds of weather." William R. Christy, Sr., 1933 Master Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

And this from a man whose work means even more exposure—even more muscular strain: "I have been a life-guard for the City of New York for many years. Sometimes after having been out on the beach all day in rainy weather or a damp day, I come home with my body aching all over with muscular rheumatism. But as soon as I apply Sloan's Liniment, the pain goes away. It gives me the quickest relief of any medicine I know. I also find it good for a rub-down after a long swim or a rescue, and I always carry a bottle of Sloan's in my first-aid kit." Walter C. Menyhart, 918 Gravesend Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Sloan's is sure—quick

Sloan's Liniment is scientific. It doesn't just deaden the nerves so that you don't feel the pain. It stirs up the body's own forces to throw off the cause of the trouble. The pain stops because the cause is removed.

If you've got wet or chilled, Sloan's wards off rheumatism, prevents colds and keeps your muscles from getting stiff and sore.

If your muscles ache from overstrain, Sloan's takes out the pain and limbers them up as nothing else can. Never be without it. Get a bottle today and have it on hand for the first emergency. All druggists—35 cents. Use it for:

Rheumatism Lame muscles
Sciatica Stiff neck
Lumbago Colds and congestions
Neuralgia Sprains and bruises

A company physician who cares for hundreds of workers every year says: "People whose work exposes them to strain or to damp and cold usually suffer from a good deal of muscular soreness. We find that Sloan's gives them quick, positive relief."

SLOAN'S Endorsed universally by those who do the world's hard work

by HARRY KECK
SPORTS EDITOR

THE I. W. W. Boys are to be put to work. The I. W. W.'s, in case you don't know them, are the boxing champions who won't work at their trade. We have quite a few of them and the outstanding ones appear to be Sammy Mandell, the lightweight champion; Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion, and Joe Dundee, the welterweight champion.

Joe Dundee.

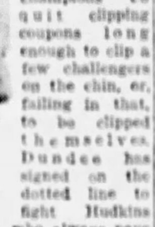
They'll fight, but without their crowns at stake. Walker especially is always ready and willing to fight for somebody else's title, but keeps his own in the safety vault. Mandell wants to see what a fortune looks like before he will risk his lightweight title. Dundee appears to be the only one of the trio who will listen to reason. He signed to meet Ace Hudkins on the Coast and went out there and got ready for the battle, but reneged when the promoter showed up without his purse on the night of the fight and the stage appeared to be set to give him the works in double time, i. e., strip him of his crown and then let him yell for his money.

THE National Boxing Association, with a livewire at the helm for the first time in the person of Thomas Donohue of Connecticut, has ordered the I. W. W. champions to quit clipping coupons long enough to clip a few challengers on the chin, or, failing in that, to be clipped themselves. Dundee has signed on the dotted line to fight Hudkins for Tex Rickard, who always pays off; Mandell has revived the old crack about titles being won and lost in the ring, but says he will fight for his price, and Mickey Walker and his manager, Jack Kearns, have greeted the command for action with dignified silence. Kearns will be heard from directly, though, and HOW!

Jack Kearns

There's one thing the N. B. A. must be given credit for and that is the fact that it commands more respect from the champions and their managers than the New York Boxing Commission, which believes itself to be the last word in all things fistic. The N. B. A. even has steered the New York commission into doing things it hasn't wanted to do, and all for the good of the game.

A COUPLE of weeks ago, Wash-Jeff signed Duquesne University to a contract for a football game next fall and a remark was made in this column that it was high time Pitt and Carnegie Tech did the same thing, thereby giving the Dukes a helping hand and enabling them to rise to their proper level in the athletic world. Tech came back with an objection to the effect that the Dukes play night school students who take only a couple of hours a week of study, which, in turn, was emphatically denied by John D. Holahan, athletic manager of the Dukes. Pitt still remains to be heard from, but Wash-Jeff now comes forward with an announcement that it investigated the Dukes' eligibility code before entering into a contract and found that there was no foundation for reports that the Dukes still were using night school or special students and that it is perfectly satisfied to retain the Dukes on its schedule.



John D. Holahan

Here's hoping both Pitt and Tech wake up and consider the Dukes for places on their 1929 football and basketball schedules when the time comes to arrange them. Such bookings would prove popular with the sports lovers of the city.

THE hard-working young athlete has two consolations as he goes about his labors. Life—

"Is not the holding of a good hand, but the playing of a poor one well," and

Canton May Get Buzz Isherwood

Manager Hank Daly of the Homewood Baseball Club stands a fair chance of being unable to line up his star pitcher of last season, Buzz Isherwood. The classy right-hander has received a contract from Joe Agler, manager of the Canton (O.) outfit of the Central League, and there is more than a chance that Isherwood will come to terms with the Buckeye outfit. Isherwood was the mainstay of the county leaguers last season, winning a big percentage of his club games.

Isherwood was recommended by Johnny McConnell, who is on the Canton receiving staff. Both boys hail from Verona.

HOT NEWS!

If there's anything these two headwaiter-baseball fans eat up, it's baseball news, even if it is only of the Stove League variety. They find plenty to comment about in pictures of Walter Tauscher and George Peery, Pirate rookie pitchers, in the Sun-Tele.

OTTAWA SKATERS HERE

By CARL W. SHATTO.

THE Pirates will play considerable hockey at Duquesne Garden tonight.

Pirate victories over any combinations of expert shin and skull whackers, making up the National Hockey League are acceptable to ice fans here, but no triumph is quite as palatable as is a triumph over a champion. The players are just as eager to gain a decision over the World's Best as the fans are to se the decision gained, and because tonight's opposition is to be furnished by the renowned world's champion Ottawa Senators—

The Pirates will play considerable hockey at Duquesne Garden tonight.

And no less than considerable hockey is going to be enough. When the world's champs arrived here this morning they appeared full of vim and vigor and confident of an Ottawa victory. Were the names of their roster less imposing, the Senator victory predictions might be laughed off, but it is a rather difficult task to laugh off victory predictions voiced by such ice giants as King Clancy, one of the most colorful performers and fastest skaters in the circuit; George Boucher, of the famous Boucher family of hockey stars; Frank Nighbor, the poke-check king; Hec Kilrea, one of the league's leading scorers, and Cy Denneny and Punch Broadbent, defense men extraordinary.

BUCS IN GOOD SHAPE

With the exception of Marty Burke, stalwart defense man, the Pirates are in good condition for the fray. Marty is suffering from an attack of grip, and although he may see some service late in the fray, it is probable that Roger Smith will take his place in the starting lineup. Their 2 to 1 victory on Chicago ice last Monday has added to the Bucs' confidence (which was badly riddled in early-season settos) and the lineup which brought success in the Windy City will not be changed. This means that Cotton will team with Milks and Darragh in the starting forward line, with McCurry helping Drury and White in the relief work. In recent battles the spares have equalled or outdone the starters in effectiveness, and they can be counted upon to keep up the pressure against hockey's kings.

WHO CARES, THOUGH THE COLD WINDS BLOW?

Here we have Joe (Joseph Minz) and Biz (Bismark Mihm), Pittsburgh's premier baseball fans, enjoying a "sit" in the stands at Forbes Field, dreaming dreams of the balmy days to come when the old national pastime will be popping again. Joe has missed only about five games in the 19 years of Forbes Field history, while Biz runs him a close second.

Test for Augsburg Ice Team Planned

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. — (AP.) — The American Olympic Committee today considered a suggestion that the Augsburg College hockey team of Minneapolis meet the University Club team of Boston in a test match to determine the former's fitness to represent the United States in the Olympic winter sports at St. Moritz, Switzerland. The Olympic Committee announced yesterday its rejection of the Augsburg sextet as not sufficiently representative.

Unless such a tryout is arranged, either ere or in Boston, there is little chance of reversing the committee's decision, in spite of appeals to Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur of Baltimore, chairman of the committee.

The University Club team, considered the strongest amateur sextet in the country, declined an invitation to go the Olympics.

The Augsburg College team was designated the United States Olympic games hockey choice by William S. Haddock of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Olympic hockey committee, who said today he would stand by his choice.

M'LARNIN BOUT OKED

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP.)—The State Athletic Commission today approved the lightweight bout between Jimmy McLarnin of Los Angeles and Sid Terris of New York, scheduled at Madison Square Garden, February 24.

Lope Tenerio, Filipino sensation, who defeated Joe Glick a few days ago in Cleveland, is slated to box Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle Negro, in the main bout at the Garden January 27.

SOCCER DRAW MADE

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Announcement was made yesterday of the draw for the Eastern second round national challenge cup soccer games. It follows:

Bethlehem Steel vs. Brooklyn, at Brooklyn; New York Giants vs. New York Nationals, at New York; Providence vs. J. & P. Coats of Pawtucket, at Pawtucket; Boston vs. Fall River, at Fall River.

Second round games are to be played January 28 and 29. The western section resumes play February 4 and 5.

Merchants Back Latrobe Ball Club

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 19.—A group of prominent Latrobe business men will back the entry of that town in the Pennsylvania Baseball League, it was decided following a meeting held last night.

R. S. Head, J. J. Hudson, Victor Stader, Michael Curto, Willis Flack, E. J. Walton, Michael Peretto and Harry Scelee have been named a committee which will meet shortly and sign a manager as well as recruit players for the club. The Latrobe fans are desirous of placing a club in the field that will be able to hold its own with Greensburg, last year's champs, or any of the other clubs.

Next Tuesday evening those interested in the Monessen franchise, the newest entry in the league, will meet in the American Legion rooms at that place and lay plans for the season.

NOTABLES AT FOX FETE

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Jan. 19.—Karl E. Davis, graduate athletic manager of the University of Pittsburgh, and likely Charley Bowser and Alex Stevenson, assistant coaches, will be honor guests at the testimonial banquet for Alex Fox, captain-elect of the Panther eleven for next fall, here Saturday night. Pittsburgh newspapermen also will attend.

BIZ AND JOE PRIMED FOR NEW SEASON

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

JOE AND BIZ are two of the greatest baseball fans in Pittsburgh, and at this time each year they break out in a feverish rash.

Although they love golf and other sports, they think baseball tops them all. They know most of the Pirates personally and many of the visiting players call on them. So they naturally "know their stuff."

Joe has missed something like five games in the 19 years of Forbes Field history, and Biz's record is almost as good. Joe probably has seen the Pirates in more home games than any other person.

Joe and Biz will give you baseball for dessert or with the first course. They may upset a tray on you right after the Pirates lose a tough one, as both team with excitement when this occurs.

FANS, BUT FAIR

But the two colorful characters have the right slant on the game. In the first place, they are keen judges of ability. They never "knock" a player who is hustling; in fact, they don't go in for "knocking." Unless they know positively that any player is not doing the right thing they reserve their opinions.

The two enthusiasts are cousins. They are Joseph Kinz and Bismark Mihm. Two industrious German boys, they were not in this country long until baseball claimed them.

Joe and Biz are the well-known headwaiters at Matt Trubert's place in Oakland. They dish out baseball and good comedy as well as food.

SERVICE GAME OFF--ARMY

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP.)—West Point authorities feel that the last word has been said on the Army-Navy controversy over football eligibility rules and that the 1928 game is "off" definitely and finally.

Maj. Philip B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics at West Point, in a formal statement, said Army officials considered the issue had been closed when the superintendents of the two academies decided on January 7 to cancel a four-year contract and announced that no game would be played in 1928.

STEVENS TO BE YALE COACH IF JONES QUITS

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Jan. 19.—(INS.)—If Tad Jones doesn't reconsider his resignation as head football coach at Yale, Marvin Stevens, right-hand man of the retiring chieftain of the Elis, probably will be his successor. That much and no more will the athletic authorities here admit.

fessional boxing but permitting amateur boxing to remain.

Jimmy McLarnin and Sid Terris have been matched for New York, February 24. An effort will be made to match the winner with Champion Sammy Mandell.

The State Athletic commission, at its meeting at Philadelphia yesterday, suspended Linn Jordan, Negro middleweight of Johnstown, for 30 days for fouling in a bout at Johnstown last Monday, and also made a ruling that soft drinks must not be sold in glass bottles at the boxing clubs henceforth. Seems the boys have been pop-bottling some of the officials.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—(AP.)—Devereux Milburn, rated by many experts as the greatest polo player of all time, has decided to retire from international competition.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., Jan. 19.—George (Moon) Beery has been elected captain of the Juniata College 1928 football team. He succeeds Red Douglass, and has been a varsity back for the last two years.

Two Tens Top Ring Card

A LIGHTWEIGHT and a bantamweight 10-round bout feature the double windup card at McKeesport tonight, the first professional boxing show in the Tube City in a number of weeks.

Teddy Welch

Teddy Welch, McKeesport lightweight, and Cowboy Joe Cannell of Youngstown will top off the bill and Andy Tomosky of Wilmerding and Al Dundee, Mansfield (O.) 120-pounder, will meet in the other feature battle.

Tiger Joe Randall of Elizabeth, Pa., and Jess Hoak of McKeesport will meet in the second bout of six rounds, and J. D. Barrett, erstwhile amateur of Swissvale, and Georgie Peck, will open the show.

Bob Todd of McKeesport is back in the managing end of the game again and will handle Phil Scello, Jack Bany, Jess Hoak and Jimmy Belmont in their future bouts. Bob will be remembered as the mentor of Tommy Ryan and Johnny Ward of McKeesport, when they were rising in the profession.

Boxing will be revived at Washington, Pa., next Monday night, with a show in the Washington Gardens under the auspices of Edwin Scott Linton Post No. 175, of the American Legion. Pete Zivic will box Jack Willison of Youngstown in the 10-round main bout, and Johnny Buff of Moundsville, W. Va., and Abe Witz are paired for the semi-final. Banty Reihner of Little Washington and Young Tarris of Canonsburg are matched for six rounds, and there will be two other preliminaries. Johnny Gallagher will referee.

ASHLAND TO PLAY HERE ON OCT. 6

ASHLAND COLLEGE, of Ashland, O., will put the Carnegie Tech football machine to its second test of the 1928 season, on October 6, it was revealed today when Clarence (Buddy) Overend, graduate manager of athletics, announced the Tartans' completed grid schedule. Ashland, a newcomer on the Skibos' card, is expected to supply ideal competition for an early-season clash.

The completed schedule is as follows: September 29, Westminster College, away; October 6, Ashland College, at Pittsburgh; October 13, Tulsi College, at Pittsburgh; October 20, Washington and Jefferson College, at Pittsburgh; October 27, University of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh; November 3, permanently open; November 10, Georgetown University, at Washington; November 17, Notre Dame University, at South Bend, Ind.; November 24, New York University, at Pittsburgh.

CAGERS GET LONG REST

In order to give the players ample time to prepare for the mid-year examinations, which are scheduled from January 20 to 27, the Carnegie Tech basketball squad will forego further intercollegiate competition from now on until February 4. On that date the Tartans will resume their regular schedule by playing Penn State at State College.

CHILLY SAUCE

By CHILLY DOYLE

CAN a manager drawing $20,000 or less per season consistently and effectively give orders to a subordinate whose pay check is twice as big as his boss'? The difference in pay should have nothing to do with the general situation, but it will be interesting to observe how Rogers Hornsby behaves under the discipline of Jack Slattery, his new chief.

IN the American League we have a case that is far more striking. Babe Ruth is receiving more money per year than Judge Landis, himself, not to mention Miller Huggins, wee manager of the Yanks, yet the Babe, to his credit, has made himself amenable to discipline in the past several seasons.

SPEAKING about salaries, here's another "ask me another!" Did Babe Ruth finish second to Col. Jake Ruppert when he signed a three-year contract for $70,000 per season?

DUE pricipally to Ruth, the Yanks played to more than 2,000,000 fans. At least 1,000,000 paid to see Bambino and his supporting cast at the Yankee Stadium. That means more than $1,000,000 in home receipts, and carried further, it means that the Yankee share of these receipts were $750,000 or better.

ON the road the Yanks, we will say, played to another million. For their share, Ruppert and his pals would collect $250,000. In all events the Yanks appear to have taken in $1,000,000 for their share.

Old Stars Grow Wan Baseball Speeds on

By GEORGE E. PHAIR

ONE time he was the pride and joy
Of all the rooters, man and boy,
But now they cannot find a job
On any club for Tyrus Cobb.

One time the old white eagle soared
While all the stands and bleachers roared,
But when the horsehide flies in air
You will not find Tris Speaker there.

One time a youth with smiling face
Kicked up the dust at second base,
A marvel, swift of hand and brow,
But where is Eddie Collins now?

One time—it seems but yesternoon—
His bat rang out a merry tune,
And now bold Rogers Hornsby goes
Out where the dear old codfish grows.

One time they lit the baseball sky,
Those priceless stars, remote and high,
But time rolls on its endless way—
You will be there on opening day.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Very Few and Informal Parties Being Given by Society Leaders Wintering at Home

WHILE this is a tune which you may have noticed being played in various keys in this column during the last week or two, it is a fact, just the same, that very few and informal parties are being held just now. Why the stay-at-homes prefer to drop practically all social life after the holidays is quite a mystery, but it is true, nevertheless.

Sewickley is, of course, included in this, and the Valley is in quite as much of a "slump" as is the city. The girls who are taking part in the play which the junior section of the Woman's Club of Sewickley Valley is to give January 30 are busy every morning and many afternoons with rehearsals, but neither they nor their friends are very active socially.

However, one party is being held today in the Valley. Mrs. Glenn T. Braden is the hostess, entertaining at luncheon in her home in Academy avenue, with 18 guests present.

Among the travelers from Sewickley are Mrs. J. G. Roney and her mother, Mrs. James Grove, of Linden place, who left last night for Atlantic City.

The Benjamin R. B. Townsends, of Sewickley Heights, gave a dinner at their home Tuesday night for Frances Schoen, who is to marry Lewis A. Park, of Pittsburgh and Sewickley Heights, at a wedding February 4 in the home of her mother, Mrs. William Henry Schoen, in Fifth avenue.

The Townsends, with their daughter, Elizabeth Irwin Townsend, and son, James Park Townsend, have since left for Ormond Beach, Fla., where they have taken a house for the rest of the season.

Martha Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Faber Brooks, of Shields, has been in New York since Sunday and has been attending all the parties which are being given there in connection with the wedding of her school chum, Cornelia Neilson Simmons, daughter of E. Henry H. Simmons, and Theodore Cole Romaine, son of Mrs. Louis T. Romaine, all of New York. The wedding is taking place today in St. Bartholomew's Church and will be followed by a reception at Sherry's.

Cornelia has made a number of friends both in Sewickley and in town during her visits with Martha, and the news of her approaching marriage aroused much interest when it came out, a couple of weeks ago.

The wedding of Miss Helen Simpson, daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Simpson of South avenue, Wilkinsburg, and Albert R. Kenney of Trenton avenue took place Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. James' Catholic Church with the Rev. Stephen Walsh officiating. Mrs. Emmett R. Williamson was matron of honor and Ralph E. Kenney was his brother's best man. A breakfast in the bride's home followed the ceremony. After a trip Mr. and Mrs. Kenney will be at home in McClure avenue, Regent Square.

Dr. and Mrs. Ransom E. Somers, Lieut. and Mrs. Paul Harter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Ayars will be chaperons at the annual University of Pittsburgh inter-fraternity ball to be held tomorrow night in the Hotel Schenley. James W. Sloan heads the committee in charge.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Volz, Jr., of Stamm avenue, Mt. Oliver, have made known the marriage of their daughter, Miss Anne Emilie Volz, and Dr. Kenneth Dallmore Eskey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Eskey of Zara street, Knoxville, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon in the German Evangelical Protestant Church. Owing to a recent death in the bride's family the wedding was a very quiet one. Miss Louise Volz was her sister's maid of honor and Ralph McKay of Dormont was best man.

The executive committee of the Theta Sigma chapter of Zeta Tau Alpha will entertain the chapter members at a bridge tea Saturday afternoon in the fraternity house, in North Craig street. Miss Mary Kammerer is in charge of arrangements.

Kathryn Mae Joyce Post No. 599, of the American Legion, which is the nurses' post, will hold a card party the night of February 9 in Guild Hall, Center avenue, East End, the proceeds to be given to the drum and bugle corps of Homewood Post No. 251. Homewood post is assisting in arrangements. Mrs. P. J. Logue is general chairman.

* * *

The Little Flower Club is to give a dance February 2 in the Knights of Columbus Hall, West Diamond and Ohio streets. Miss Sara Donahue is general chairman.

PRESENT "PARLOR MUSICALE"

Betty McCullough, Mrs. William B. Akin, Mrs. William F. Follansbee, Edith Speer and Mrs. William A. Renshaw are shown as they appeared in the Twentieth Century Club's "Parlor Musicale."

READY FOR THE CURTAIN

Waiting for the curtain to rise are Mrs. Jean McCrory Newman, Mrs. David Aiken Pitcairn, Eda McCoy and Mrs. Thomas K. Cree. Mrs. Cree was director of the "musicale," which was presented in the clubhouse today as part of the club's winter entertainment program.

OUT OF THE PAST

And here, perhaps discussing leg o'mutton sleeves, long skirts, directoire coats and things are Mrs. Frederick Edmondson, Mrs. Clarence B. Steffey, Mrs. John E. Nelson and Mrs. Sidney A. Chalfant.

MRS. ALLEN ENTERTAINS FOREST HILLS WOMEN

Mrs. Norman Allen entertained the Woman's Club of Forest Hills at her home, Ardmore boulevard and Braddock road, this afternoon. Assisting her were Mrs. Douglas Miner and Mrs. W. W. Reddie. Mrs. Aden L. Fillmore, a former president of the Outlook Alliance and a prominent member of the Congress of Clubs and of the League of Women Voters, spoke on "Know Your Courts." Mrs. T. C Clifford of the New England Colony and the Twentieth Century Club, is to speak before the art, drama and music committee at its meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. M. F. Packard, Castlegate road. The club will celebrate its seventh anniversary with a dinner and card party next Thursday evening, when the social and courtesy committee, under Mrs. Charles Jablow's chairmanship, will be in charge.

The cultural group of Hadassah Chapter will meet on Saturday afternoon, January 28, in the home of Mrs. Julius H. Cohen, Bartlett street. Alexander Cooper will review George Eliot's "Daniel Deronda" and the discussion will be conducted by Mrs. A. H. Vixman.

Arrangements have been completed for a benefit card party at the home of Mrs. Saul Kann, Beacon street, on January 30, for the Jewish National Fund of Hadassah. Cards will be played from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and from 8 to 11 in the evening. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Barney Cohen, of Raleigh street.

The Lee Community Club's dramatic committee, Mrs. W. A. Young, chairman, will present the program on Monday evening at the regular meeting in the school auditorium. "Miss Deborah's Pocketbook," a one-act play by Alice C. Thompson, will be given with Mrs. C. E. Richards, Mrs. C. F. Hanover and Mrs. Ida Johnson, Miss Margaret Young, Miss Thelma Swem and Miss Jo Breamer in the cast. The program will include solo dancing by Miss Florence Stevenson, readings by Miss Helen Sisenwain and musical numbers under the direction of the music committee, Mrs. Anne M. Miller, chairman. A business meeting will precede the program.

The Women's Fortnightly Review of Elizabeth will have as its speaker on guest day, Thursday of next week, Mrs. Earnest Waltz, of Washington, who will talk on "Contemporary American Verse." Mrs. Waltz will illustrate her talk with readings from the various authors. Mrs. Richard B. Perry, Allegheny County Federation chairman, and local officers of the State Federation have been invited to be present. The meeting will be held in the parlors of the Presbyterian Church and will be followed by a social hour in charge of Mrs. Thomas Russell.

The Woman's Club of the City of Pittsburgh has elected these officers: President, Mrs. Joseph B. Drake (re-elected); vice presidents, Mrs. S. Stingel and Mrs. E. R. Braun; recording secretary, Mrs. Ray S. Judd; corresponding secretary, Mrs. G. Stanley Petrik; treasurer, Mrs. J. C. Schreiner. Three new directors, Mrs. Edwin Rawsthorne, Mrs. . . L. Price and Mrs. James McNeil, were also elected.

A delightful program of music was given yesterday before the Woman's Fortnightly Review of Mt. Lebanon when the members met in the home of Mrs. S. A. Stright, Wainbell avenue. Mrs. Delphine Heimert gave three groups of songs, each in a different costume, the first gypsy songs, the second Chinese and the third, old-fashioned numbers, for which she appeared in hoop-skirts. Miss Carolyn Gray accompanied and the program was completed by a string quartet composed of Miss Alice Foster, Miss Katherine Ricker, Miss Alice Martin and Miss Rose Allo. The tea hour rounded out the afternoon, for which Mrs. Don V. Bawhill was assistant hostess.

The Wednesday Current Events Class devoted 10 minutes to word pronunciation yesterday just previous to the current events talk by Miss Sara Roffel. The club met as, is its custom, in the Congress of Clubs and Mrs. Charles A. Orr presided.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Allegheny Commandery No. 35, Knights Templar, held its annual luncheon in Boggs & Buhl's tearoom this afternoon in honor of the outgoing and incoming presidents, Mrs. H. A. Becker and Mrs. Thomas F. Morris. Mrs. F. W. Young, chairman, was assisted by Mrs. R. K. Steck. A musical program was given by Mrs. Webster Hinnau, soprano; Mrs. William Stone, contralto, and Miss Erma Speer, reader. Mrs. Eleanor Masterson Longnecker was accompanist.

The committee in charge of the benefit bridge party which the Woman's Club of Mt. Lebanon will give Friday night in the Black home is headed by Mrs. Frank Garratt and includes Mrs. J. E. Stone, Mrs. Charles Murray, Mrs. Phillip McCain, Mrs. A. K. White, Mrs. W. A. Smoot, Mrs. E. R. McCarty, Mrs. F. W. Cooke, Miss Nancy McCormick, Mrs. James Bardsley, Mrs. J. J. O'Donnell, Mrs. R. H. Cannon, Mrs. Henry Hamilton and Mrs. R. M. Johnson.

SCHENLEY APARTMENTS

In all the land there is not another apartment residence group offering quite as many advantages in the modern way of living as Schenley Apartments. A challenge of this statement would only afford the opportunity of emphasizing what it asserts.

This excelling position was not gained entirely with the completion of the five immense structures comprising the group, notwithstanding that a new standard was set.

But it was established when the service system was developed, on such a scale as had never before been thought of in connection with apartments.

"There are 125 employees in the service corps of Schenley Apartments."

In addition, the dining and entertaining facilities of Hotel Schenley, adapted to individual apartment requirements, are constantly available.

More than 200 of Pittsburgh's prominent families have their permanent residence at Schenley Apartments.

BREAKFAST for your SCHOOL CHILDREN

¶ In their study of the things that help or hinder the progress of your children in school, authorities have found that nothing is so important as a proper breakfast.

¶ The best school-day breakfast is given in a bulletin of one of the largest teachers' colleges:

A mild fruit
Dry, hard bread
A well-cooked cereal
Milk

¶ The bulletin follows with the advice that if the breakfast must be simpler 'it is best to give the cereal and milk'.

¶ Since milk is such an important part of the school-day breakfast, the kind of milk used is equally important.

¶ Harmony Milk, always the freshest, comes to you direct from the herd with nothing added or taken from it. Ask for Harmony at your neighborhood store.

WILLIAM FALCK, SON OF EARLY SETTLER, DIES

William Falck, 72, 3345 Hiawatha street, North Side, foreman in the county road department, died suddenly in the automobile of H. O. Erkert of Mt. Nebo road, while riding in Brighton road, Ben Avon, last evening.

Falck was employed at the road department storehouse opposite Horne's camp on Lowrie's Run road. He was on his way home when Erkert came along and offered him a lift. Falck was apparently all right when he stepped into the auto, but shortly afterward complained of a sharp pain and almost immediately collapsed. Erkert took him to the fire engine house in Ben Avon and summoned two physicians from the Suburban Hospital, Bellevue, who found him dead. Heart disease was given as the cause of death.

William Falck was the son of Michael Falck, one of the early settlers in what is now the Twenty-seventh Ward, North Side. Michael was a truck farmer, and it was in his farm house, still standing, on what is now Davis avenue, that William was born. He attended what were then the rural schools of the neighborhood.

In his young manhood he was a musician and played the trombone in the Great Western Band, then one of the crack bands of the country. For 28 years he was in the employ of the city, and for four years was in the county road department. He was a charter member of Pittsburgh Lodge No. 11, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and a member of the Church of the Ascension, Sherman avenue.

He leaves his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Clark Workman of Columbus, O., and Mrs. Frank Possiel of New York City, and four brothers, Louis, Henry, Charles and George Falck.

Forbes

Will Cost of Living Sag? How Prices Are Changing.

By B. C. FORBES

THE cost of living has moved up slightly thus far this year. In my opinion, the advance is unlikely to go far. Later in the year the trend is more likely to be moderately in the other direction.

The wage trend has been slightly downward, due to more or less unemployment at a good many centers. Reductions up to 10 per cent have been made by various cotton manufacturers.

Prices in the stock market have declined rather substantially during January. From the high points reached in the first week of the year, railway shares on the New York exchange have fallen an average of three points and industrials eight points. My guess is that this downward movement is not over by any means.

IT COSTS half as much again to live in the United States now as it did before the war. Meanwhile, however, average wages have advanced 100 per cent, so that people, as a whole, are distinctly better off than they were then.

After suffering from unduly low prices after the post-war boom collapsed, our agricultural population at last are on a relatively favorable price level; that is to say, agricultural prices have advanced quite as much as prices for manufactured products. And it is encouraging to note that mild improvement in land values has begun to appear in various states.

CITY folks have complained more about high rents than about almost anything else. At most places the scarcity of accommodations created by the wartime halt in building has now been remedied. The probable result will be, in my judgment, that rents will fall rather than rise during the current year. Already unusual inducements are offered in not a few cities to attract tenants to new buildings. Speculative builders lately have not fared well at many points and they are now finding business less responsive to requests for loans.

THE general price level is higher this January than it was last January, but is lower than it was two years ago. The changes in different classes of commodities have been very uneven, influenced in considerable degree by what has occurred in wage fluctuations. Certain classes of workers, mostly those formerly receiving low wages, have been able to bring about greater advances than certain other classes.

The following table, compiled from Bradstreet's records, shows at a glance how prices stand now compared with 1913 and compared with one year ago and two years ago. The percentages are based on 100 as representing the 1913 level.

Price comparisons:

Commodities	Now.	Jan. 1927	Jan. 1926
All combined	147.2	139.2	153.2
Breadstuffs	147	132	159
Livestock	122	110	116
Provisions	154	138	153
Fruits	132	114	109
Hides, leathers	145	108	110
Textiles	146	121	144
Metals	122	132	136
Coal, coke	165	178	214
Oils	146	154	152
Naval stores	236	202	298
Building materials	137	154	155
Chemicals, drugs	124	120	193
Miscellaneous	180	164	208

FORECASTS of 1928 agricultural prices can be nothing better than mere guesswork. From present indications, one is inclined to look for firmness rather than weakness, for a moderate advance rather than any drastic decline.

The nation's industrial productive facilities being in excess of requirements, the chances are that the price level for finished goods will not rise, but may continue to sag, specially in view of the very keen efforts persistently exercised to bring about economies in production. It is entirely possible that economies in distribution will be effected this year, for this problem is receiving more attention than ever before.

Another factor calculated to keep our industrial prices from soaring is the rehabilitation which has been making marked headway in foreign countries eager to build up foreign markets in competition with us.

ALL in all, the year is unlikely to bring any drastic change in the cost of living or in wages, but such changes as occur in prices probably will favor the consumer.

PRIVATE SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

IN THE ORPHANS' COURT OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA
No. 313 January Term, 1928

NOTICE is hereby given that Ida B. Miller, administratrix of the estate of William M. Emerick, deceased, has presented her petition to the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County as the above number and term praying for an order authorizing and directing her to sell at private sale to Charles F. Noll, for the payment of debts of said decedent and the expenses of administration, for the price or sum of Eight Hundred Fifty ($850.00) Dollars, payable in cash, the following described real estate:

ALL that certain lot or piece of ground situate in Ross Township, County of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, being part of lot No. 8 in Plan of Sub-division of the estate of Rosanna Reel, deceased, recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County, in Plan Book Vol. 24 pages 156 and 157, and bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

BEGINNING on the westerly side of the City's Ben Macadamized Road at a point in the line of lands late of William Keown, et al, at the northeasterly corner of said lot No. 8 in said plan; thence along the dividing line between said lot No. 8 and said lands late of William Keown, et al, South 74° 10' West fourteen (14) feet to the line of the right of way of the Pittsburgh, Harmony and New Castle Railway Company; thence southwardly along the line of said right of way seventy (70) feet, more or less, to the dividing line between lots Nos. 7 and 8 in said plan; thence along said last mentioned dividing line North 69° 55' East, ten (10) feet more or less, to the westerly line of said Macadamized Road; and thence along the westerly line of said Macadamized Road North 31° 42' West sixty-seven and 12/100 (67.12) feet to the line of lands of Reeves aforesaid, at the place of beginning. Having erected thereon a one-story frame house.

BEING the same property which Henry G. Zehner and Alice M. Zehner, his wife, by their deed dated February 21, 1902, and recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Deed Book Vol. 1262, page 004, granted and conveyed unto William M. Emerick.

And the Court has fixed Saturday, February 11th, 1928, at 10 o'clock A. M. to open Court at the City-County Building, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, as the time and place for a hearing on said petition, when and where all persons interested may appear, object and be heard and offer a substantial increase for said real estate, in accordance with the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided.

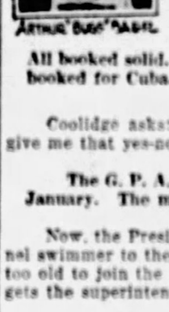
BUGS BAER Says

QUITE some few pacifists want to know why President Coolidge attends peace conferences on a battleboat.

They point to Noah, who sent out his dove from the ark. But Noah's dove came back with spinach on his craw. We have sent many doves out lately, but they have wound up in Central American pigeon pies.

When the President wants to travel he calls up the general passenger agent of the War Department and says: "I have to go to Cuba in the morning. What's the chances for a lower?"



The G. P. A. says: "Sorry, but the supply exceeds the demand. We can let you have an upper for Nova Scotia."

The President says: "Listen: I'm a personal friend of the manager of the Wet Hay Stack Corporation. I have got to go to Cuba. I overstayed my Christmas leave. The boss thinks I have been on the road for 10 days."

The G. P. A. answers: "Nothing doing. All booked solid. Benevolent Order of the Thirst has everything booked for Cuba."

Coolidge asks: "How's chances on a banana boat? And don't give me that yes-no business."

The G. P. A. answers: "Nothing doing. All booked solid for January. The marines are having a rotary in Nicaragua."

Now, the President is all things to all men. But he ain't a channel swimmer to the photographers. He has to get to Havana. He is too old to join the marines, so he calls up the reserve junk yard and gets the superintendent.

Cal says: "This is the President. I have to go to Cuba in the morning. Get me a battleship out of the last scrapping conference. Paint it up and put a waffle iron in the main gun turret. What boats have we left?"

The super says: "Only the Texas."

Cal says: "Fine. Trot out that old gray mare. I'll go to Cuba on the Texas. But keep it quiet. England and Japan think we haven't got any boats left at all."

When England discovers that our President was actually on the Texas there will be seventeen international diplomats fired for neglect of duty. The object of his visit is peace among the slapping-American nations.

But when Sandino or Nicaragua looks out of his window and sees Mr. Coolidge's choice of yachts he will remark:

"That ain't the Mayflower. That's the Texas. And if Cal is the salesman of peace he is carrying the wrong kind of samples."

Flood Control Objectors Should Come Into Open

Interests behind a hydro-electric power project in the upper Allegheny and French Creek valleys have filed an objection to flood control plans recently outlined in Washington by the Pittsburgh Flood Commission. The objectors ask that any steps taken by Congress keep in view the proposed hydro-electric development.

Those who are interested in this proposal, said to involve $200,000,000 of State, Federal and private capital, the latter representing $40,000,000 for plant construction, should come into the open. A partnership so incongruous as this is indicated to be, contains possibilities of unreasonable delay in flood control.

The plan may be practicable and yet not one for enthusiastic espousal. Hooking up State and Federal governments and private interests presents so many difficulties that even the most hopeful could well be dubious of the outcome.

Anyway, the matter of flood control and aid to river navigation is too big and too important to be impeded by virtually anonymous obstruction. Let the private interests come into the light. Let the cards be laid on the table. If there be practical reason for co-operation, let it begin here.

Boulder Dam Necessary And Very Good Business

The dust kicked up by the squabble between states bordering on the Colorado River ought not to obscure the main issue in the Boulder Dam bill now pending before Congress.

The point, and the overwhelming point, is that this is emergency legislation.

It is a flood control measure asked on behalf of a farming population of 65,000 in the Imperial Valley in California, threatened with ruin by a Colorado River flood, because their valley lies below sea level and of course far below the level of the river bed. It could not be drained off.

They do not ask one cent from the public treasury. The project is guaranteed to be self-supporting. The bill provides for the government to construct a 550-foot dam at Boulder Canyon to hold the devastating summer floods of the Colorado. An all-American canal is to be constructed from the Colorado into Imperial Valley, replacing the present canal that runs through Mexico.

Incidentally, the stored waters will irrigate 500,000 acres of additional land—it will double the size of Imperial Valley. Incidentally, the reservoir will supplement the insufficient domestic water supply of Southern California cities—who will of course pay for the water they receive. Incidentally, the stored waters will supply a million horsepower of electric energy, for whose use Southern California cities are ready to contract at profitable rates.

To be sure that the development will be no burden upon the taxpayers, the bill provides that the Secretary of the Interior, who is to construct the dam, cannot turn a spadeful of earth until he has in hand contracts for water and power sufficient to make the entire project self-supporting and to pay off its entire cost in 50 years.

The people of Imperial Valley have had the energy and initiative to wrest an empire out of the barren desert. Congress ought not again to let their appeal go unheeded.

Congress ought not to let their need be subordinated to the petty politics of some other Colorado River states, the jealousy of California's progress and prosperity and the announced determination of the private power interests not to allow the United States government to build a power house on the Colorado River even if its revenues demonstrably can make a great flood-control project self-supporting.

She Takes, Takes, TAKES

What Girl Will Answer This Poem?

The poem you shall read here is taken from Capper's Weekly, which in turn takes it from the Western Druggist.

Capper's Weekly goes to 1,500,000 farms in America and is seen by millions of boys of whom the pick will be running this country twenty-five and forty years hence.

It is important that some girl should write a poem better than this, answering all these "She Took" insinuations. Here's the poem. Shut your eyes.

A Taking Girl.

She took my hand in sheltered nooks,
She took my candy and my books,
She took that lustrous wrap of fur,
She took those gloves I bought for her.
She took my words of love and care,
She took my flowers, rich and rare,
She took my time for quite a while,
She took my kisses, maid so shy—
She took, I must confess, my eye,
She took whatever I would buy,
And then she took another guy.

Where ONE girl takes all that she can get from some man, thousands of girls give infinitely more than they ever get.

A young man is polite, attentive, during a more or less brief courtship. He gives his word, which he often breaks. He says he never liked any other girl before, which usually isn't so. He gives a ring and a promise to endow with worldly goods, which he usually hasn't GOT. The girl's parents give the wedding, and often the furniture.

And after they are finally settled, the bridegroom usually spends his life GIVING EXCUSES.

A reply to his poem should be ANOTHER POEM. And some intelligent young woman should write it. If she does, will she be good enough to send a copy to the editor of this paper for inspection and possible publication?

Trotzky's Limelight

Trotzky and thirty of his followers have been banished from Russia to Siberia for being at odds with the present Soviet powers that be. This may be a new experience to some of them, but not to Trotzky. He is the out-ag'in-in-ag'in man of Russian politics, and he is out and in so often that he remains in the calcium pretty continuously, which may be as good a way as any.

It is not so tough for Trotzky. When he is in power, everything is hotski-totskovitch, and when he is out, nobody can blame him for what happens.

Lots of men never in power at all remain in the spotlight all their lives. There was Bryan.

ANOTHER SWEETHEART

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

Earth History

I would ask you to explain how the geologist can tell the depth, duration, flora and fauna of each geologic al stratum of the earth when, as I am informed, man has not penetrated more than a couple of thousand feet below the surface?—H. K.

IT IS the breaking, upheaving, folding and sinking of different parts of its crust that furnish to the geologist the means of reading the past history of the globe. If the crust had never been broken, not only would the geologist have known nothing of the interior or the process of building of the earth, but the crust would not have been formed, as it is, of a succession of superposed layers of stratified rocks, each of which once formed a portion of the upper surface.

Imagine a vast mass of unorganized matter gradually collecting to form a spherical body like the earth, the particles settling down without any upheavals or disturbances of level at the surface. There might be a certain tendency within to stratification in successive shells of increasing density; but the final result would be a globe without a history, as far as external indications showed. Except by the very scanty and uncertain data to be obtained through deep borings, the inhabitants of such a globe would be unable to learn what its past had been before they came upon it.

But the earth—or at least the outer portions of its shell to a depth of many miles—was not formed in that way. It was subjected to internal stresses that wrenched and ruptured the crust again and again, uplifting some parts, depressing others, thrusting lower masses over those that originally had been above, and producing many other changes of similar nature. But, measured by seasons and years, these disturbances were relatively slow, so that what formed the surface of the globe in any particular locality and age lay comparatively quiet for thousands, or even hundreds of thousands, of years, during which it was subjected to the more rapidly working forces of organic life and of atmospheric action. Then, at length, a great change of level would be effected by the geological forces, and a new stratum would be laid down upon the older one, and here again, during a long period of comparative rest, meteorological and biological processes took possession of the field and covered the new surface with other forms of animal and vegetable life and another layer of soil, etc.

These successive stratifications have been mainly formed at the bottom of shallow seas or along the borders of oceans. Vast areas of all continents have been alternately upheaved and depressed, with consequent invasions of the seas, and as the sinking land settled deeper the deposits brought by the water thickened until in many cases layers thousands of feet in depth were laid down, only to be upheaved again and lifted high above the general surface in a later geologic time.

Buried in the[illegible]s of these successive layers, which have b[illegible]ng, rising and sinking through many millions [illegible]ears, are found the fossil bones of the creatures which inhabited those parts of the earth where the particular stratum in question lay on the surface under the sun and air. In some regions, as in the Far West, where the Colorado River and other streams have cut long furrows thousands of feet deep through the rocks, the successive layers are revealed, lying like superimposed leaves along the edges of great chasms. But the breaking up of the crust in general has almost everywhere disclosed ancient layers, filled with remains of former life, that have been thrust up above or pushed over later layers, so that they are brought into plain sight and can be studied at leisure by the geologist. By virtue of many comparisons he is able to recognize the life forms belonging to corresponding periods in widely separated parts of the earth, and thus to match up and fill in the fascinating story of the ancient days of our earth, which constitutes an introduction to our own history as inhabitants of this rocky ball, which floats, a speck of dust, in the un[illegible]rsal starlight.

Relaxation

DO YOU know how to relax?

Or have you kept yourself at such tension so long that you cannot seem to let down?

Under such circumstances you will soon wear out.

At best you can be efficient only a few years unless you give yourself time to be free from care and worry.

If you wish to prolong your usefulness you must give yourself a change once in a while.

Get yourself under better control. Your efforts to relax depend upon your self-control.

Start with short periods when you slacken your physical and mental speed.

If you continue these efforts to relax the tired nerves you will be rewarded with greater success in your work.

You can't run at high speed all the time.

Tales That Are Told

And Then, What?

"DOROTHY, dear," remarked the maiden's mother, as she surveyed her daughter's new dance frock, "I rather think your skirt is too short this time."

"Really, mummy?"

"Yes, my dear. I should change into something else, if I were you."

"Why, asked her daughter.

"Well, the men," said her mother severely, "will think you're a child and take you in their arms and kiss you."

Dorothy blew a cloud of smoke in the air from her cigaret.

"Well?" she said.

For Her Sake

"YE GODS!" exclaimed Smith, who had come up just in time to see South exchanging a good five-pound note for an antiquated car. "What in heaven's name are you buying that old wreck for?"

"Well," exclaimed South, "my wife is ashamed every time she has to admit we haven't a car. I can't afford a car, but by having this thing that won't run and won't need any upkeep in the garage, she'll be able to say we have a car and there'll be no need to go into any further details."—London Answers.

Moving Target

A KILTED Highlander, playing the bagpipes paraded up and down the street alongside a theater queue.

"Why do they always walk up and down when they're playing?" asked a man on a passing bus.

"'Cos it's harder to 'it 'em that way!" said the conductor.

Ye Towne Gossip

by K. C. B.

THEY WERE building a house.
ON THE side of the hill.
AND MEN were standing.
ON SCAFFOLD planks.
APPLYING STUCCO.
TO THE holding wire.
AND SOME of them sang.
AND SOME of them whistled.
AND SOME of them talked.
AND THE side of the house.
ON WHICH they worked.
PROVED a sounding board.
AND EVERY note.
AND EVERY word.
CAME DOWN to us.
AND ONE of the men.
WAS A thoughtless man.
AND WHATEVER it was.
HE WAS talking about.
HE SEEMED unable.
TO EXPRESS himself.
WITHOUT the use.
OF PROFANITY.
WHICH WASN'T so bad.
UNTIL AT last.
SOMEBODY STARTED.
AN ARGUMENT.
AND THE profane man.
GREW MORE profane.
AND MORE emphatic.
IN ALL he said.
AND BECAUSE I knew.
IF I could hear.
ALL THAT he said.
THEN IT must be.
THE OFFENSIVE words.
WERE COMING down.
TO OTHER ears.
IN OUR HOUSEHOLD.
IT MADE ME mad.
AND I arose.
AND WENT outside.
A LITTLE madder.
WITH EVERY step.
AND CLIMBED and slipped.
UP THE short, steep hill.
AND OUT of breath.
I STOOD beneath.
THE SCAFFOLD planks.
AND CALLED to the man.
WHO HAD raised my ire.
AND SAID to him.
WHAT I wanted to say.
AND PREPARED myself.
TO SAY a lot more.
AND HE looked down.
IN GREAT surprise.
AND SAID to me.
"I'M VERY sorry.
"AND PLEASE forgive me.
"AND I'LL be more careful.
"AND I didn't know.
"YOU COULD hear me down there.
"AND THANK you, sir.
"FOR COMING up."
AND I answered him.
"THAT'S QUITE all right.
"AND THANK you very much.
"AND OF COURSE I knew.
"YOU DIDN'T know."
AND I slid down the hill.
AND WENT back to work.
I THANK you.

THOUGHTS OF THE GREAT—

The wisdom of the wise and the experience of the ages may be preserved by the quotation.—Isaac Disraeli.

Few are qualified to shine in company, but it is in most men's power to be agreeable. —Swift.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Theatrical stars often discard husbands and wives with the seasons. Six-time marriages and six-time divorces are a matter of record. When the yoke grows heavy, they toss it off and plead temperament. Thus the stage symbolizes loose marital ties.

It seems to apply only to the top. In lower stage stratas, the sanctity of marriage is so marked it has become the motif of many novels, plays and sermons. The troupers, hoofers and sundry variety of "hams" rarely separate. They quarrel, fight, but stick together.

Wives cling to their mates through years of living in wardrobe trunks, enduring dreary rounds of one-night stands and other hardships of tank-town trouping. Money goes for drinking and gambling that should go for the ordinary necessities with never a whine.

No class of people are so unaffected by buffeting. They cheerfully pursue the unattainable through the muddy waters with a hope so high it becomes rather pathetic. The "piffawmer" is never the one to seem embittered. He is always the windy boaster.

He may be turning his collars, cardboarding his shoes or swiping his neighbor's breakfast milk bottle down the hall. But unless you are one of his guild and very intimate, you will never know it. He will jingle a bunch of keys against a penny and make you believe he is holding out for a better offer.

He may go home to his wife completely cleaned out in a dice game and jobless, but there is no bickering—she never snivels over his profligacy. He is to her as well as to himself, "the best in the business"—and there is always the glamorous tomorrow.

Peculiarly enough, Broadway is not the goal of such dreamers. They prefer the nomadic life of the trouper. If their show becomes stranded or their act "lays an egg" they only have to wait—some tent show will come along and carry them on. They are humanity's greatest paradox—the defeated undefeated.

A little sidewalk drama unfolded in front of a fire engine on West Forty-third street. A gentleman, stepping from a taxi, handed the driver a five-cent tip and received it right back, kerplunk, in the face with a pretty epithet for good measure. In the ensuing ruckus a blind man came tapping along and a fireman picked up the nickel and dropped it in his cup.

Overheard on Fifty-seventh street: "Don't fall for a man in uniform, dearie, until you see him in civvies." Thus, doubtless, clearing up the mystery of many post war divorces.

They were discussing a leading publicity seeker who is always just under the wire on a big story. "He's the sort," ventured a critic, "who would hiss a croquet match to attract attention to himself."

A millionaire bon vivant has lived at a certain hotel seven years and has never set foot inside the lobby. He has the use of a private elevator in the rear and thus avoids the hoi polloi.

A slick stage Romeo—the sort with a fudge-eating following from the fashionable boarding schools—is married to one of those strange, at least strange to New York, women with long hair, who does not smoke and has his slippers warm when he comes from the theater. She also, my informant tells me, answers his mash mail over which they have their quiet laughs, ha, ha.

* * *

They were lamenting about two star vaudeville singers now caroling in a cabaret a few steps from Broadway. They were singing there because their income is twice what they received on the stage and that somehow or other seems a fairly sensible reason.

The Calendar

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A questionnaire was sent to 1,000 representative firms the other day in regard to a new calendar of thirteen 28-day months.

George Eastman, head of the Eastman Kodak Company, sent out a statement after the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which endorsed the movement, in which he says that the new calendar will consist of weeks in which every day of the month falls upon the same week day.

This plan will probably receive the support of the League of Nations and a committee will be appointed in each nation to ratify the proposal.

This is a valiant struggle of common sense against tradition and its outcome will be looked upon with interest.

It is very hard to change the customs of the people, even when that change will result in improvement.

People, as a rule, do not want to improve, but prefer to go along with the old machinery, as change involves too much trouble. This is illustrated in the effort to advance the metric system and to supplant the old methods of measurements in use among English-speaking peoples.

This plan for the new calendar not only would make every date fall on the same day of the week in each month, but, as this would only result in 364 days, New Year's Day would be a holiday and called January 0. Also the extra day for Leap Year would be designated by a cipher and a new month would be inserted between June and July. This month would be called Sol because it would contain the solstice in both the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

Mr. Eastman and his co-workers deserve a great deal of credit for endeavoring to make this calendar a success, as it would undoubtedly be of great convenience to the world.

Almost all business executives in America are in favor of it and it would undoubtedly do a vast deal of good in correspondence and in making our records.

Of course, the past would have to be taken into consideration, but a calendar would only be needed for the past and not for the future, and those who look forward are more apt to favor the new plan than those who look backward habitually. The calendar for one week would be for all weeks, as follows:

S.	M.	T.	W.	T.	F.	S.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON.

On Pussy Footing

CLARA OLSEN said this to me: "GOSH, I HATE PEOPLE WHO NEVER GET MAD!

"There's my uncle, for instance. Everyone thinks he's a wonderful man. He is always smiling and making polite remarks. He prides himself on never getting excited or losing his temper. No matter what you say to him, or what you do, he's as smooth as oil. He's always quoting that thing about 'a soft answer turneth away wrath.'

"BUT I'VE GOT MY SUSPICIONS OF PEOPLE WHO WANT TO TURN AWAY ALL WRATH. I BELIEVE THERE ARE TIMES WHEN IT'S ACTUALLY YOUR DUTY TO GET RED HOT, IF YOU'VE GOT THE SPUNK OF A GNAT.

"I bet if the truth were known, that my uncle doesn't feel as sweet as he pretends. I bet he's all smoked up inside only he's too yellow to put up a fight. So he hides behind that 'soft answer' stuff.

"There's another thing my uncle does that gets my goat. He's one of these Pollyannas—always looking on the bright side of things. THAT IS, HE ALWAYS WANTS YOU TO LOOK ON THE BRIGHT SIDE OF THINGS. Now it seems to me that a regular person has to get a spell of blues every now and then to work things out of their system. And if there's anything that makes me mad it's to have someone come along and tell me how lucky I am just when I'm feeling all in. That's Uncle. He comes busting in like a little ray of sunshine making his wise cracks and expecting a lot of gratitude. Gratitude—huh! I'd like to strangle him.

"PEOPLE LIKE THAT EXPECT A LOT OF CREDIT FOR THE WAY THEY ACT. BUT I THINK THEY'RE JUST SHOWING OFF, CRASHING IN WHERE THEY AIN'T INVITED. TRYING TO SHOW HOW MUCH SMARTER THEY ARE THAN YOU ARE.

"I like regular people who do fool things and go whining around like everyone else and get mad once in a while and bust you in the nose. These people who keep their emotions in cold storage for fear they'll get into trouble give me a pain in the neck.

"I'D RATHER BE DEAD THAN GO PUSSY-FOOTING THROUGH LIFE!"

Clara Olsen said that to me.

I'm going out to buy a nice, green wreath and decorate that girl.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS

Back to the Sea

I SHALL go back to the sea again,
Something within me cries;
Back to the joy of its emerald plain,
Back where the great winds rise.
Though for a time I have lingered here
(Stately, the great oaks grow!)
Ever the call of the sea in my ear
Murmurs of ebb and flow.
Hemmed in by forest, so high, so wide,
Prisoned, I wait release
Till I go back to the singing tide,
Back to the sea—and peace!
